EX-PREMIER ANDREW BONAR LAW DEAD

MORE MOTORISTS SCORED BY JUDGE ENRIGHT IN DISTRICT COURT TODAY—OTHER CASES

It was "automobile day" in district court this morning, seven violators of the motor vehicle laws, including driving without license or registration, operating without headlights or tail-lights and operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, receiving severe censure from Judge Enright for what he characterized as "utter disregard for law and authority and a menace to our public highways."

Besides the automobile cases, a small quota of other offenses was heard during a lengthy session.

Ralph W. E. Wainwright was charged with operating an automobile without a rear light. Motorcycle Officer Charles Hamilton said defendant told him he left his license and registration at home. "That's the spirit and disposition being shown by motorists," commented Judge Enright, "and I believe such offenders should be taught a lesson." A fine of $10 was imposed.

Clifford Kovel appeared in answer to charges of operating a motorcycle without license or registration. For

ANDREW BONAR LAW, FORMER BRITISH PREMIER, DEAD

Passed Away Early This Morning Following Acute Attack of Septic Pneumonia—Was One of Most Powerful Political Figures in Europe—Often Called the "Roosevelt of Europe"

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(By the Associated Press) Andrew Bonar Law, one of the most powerful political figures in Europe and for seven months prime minister of Great Britain, died in his modest London home at 3 o'clock this morning.

Five months ago—on May 20—he resigned the premiership on account of a fatal malady which for a long time had troubled him. Even then he was reluctant to admit that his career was finished and retained his seat in the house of commons, where he since made two or three appearances.

Ten days ago, Mr. Bonar Law returned to London from Brighton after a sojourn of several weeks. His physicians issued a statement to the effect that he had contracted a severe chill, but the public did not suspect that the end was so near. They read in this morning's newspapers that he had developed septic pneumonia and a condition that gave rise to consid-

RACE CALLED OFF TODAY

Heavy Fog and Absence of Wind Prevents Second Race for International Cup

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 30.—After a series of half hour postponements that commenced at 8.30 this morning and ended at 10.20 when the racing committee announced that there would be no satisfactory sailing conditions today, the second of the international schooner race series was postponed until tomorrow. A fog of such density that motor cars and pedestrians in the city were bewildered and lost, prevailed during the early hours of the morning and those on the waterfront could not see a boat length. Added to this condition was the complete lack of wind. Scarcely the slightest semblance of a zephyr was noticeable until well after noon when a breeze had banished the fog in the city. The race on the public buildings were hazy and at Campobello, at the mouth of the harbor, the most optimistic report said the breeze had attained three knots. It came out of the southeast.

At their respective docks, the two racers, Columbia and Bluebird, vanished and victor for yesterday's thrilling race, lay at anchor motionless and the participants on their tall masts hung straight down. The seasoned fishermen who fished about their docks received the news of the various postponements sent by messenger without surprise for they knew from experience there would be no racing here today.

Immediately after the last postponement the racing committee went into session in the clubhouse of the royal Nova Scotia yacht squadron close by the breakwater.

It was stated that they would take no matters pertaining to yesterday's race.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Lowell to Be Honored With Exemplification of Fourth Degree on May 4

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Oct. 30.—The date for the spring exemplification of the fourth degree in the Knights of Columbus for Massachusetts was definitely set today for May 4 in the Lowell Memorial Auditorium. The matter was determined after a special committee from Bishop Delany's Assembly of Lowell had conferred with Louis A. Watson, master of the fourth degree in this province.

Candidates for the degree will come from all over the state. The selection of Lowell as the place for the exemplification of the degree, puts this city in the same category with Boston and Springfield. No other city offers the facilities that Boston, Springfield and Lowell do for an event of this magnitude, and hence the request of the Delany assembly becomes a reality with the definite selection of the date today.

Mayor Donovan Offers Suggestion For the Solution of Traffic Problems

Would Bridge Canal and Construct New Thoroughfare From East Merrimack to Warren Street—In Letter to Planning Board His Honor Recommends Conference With Officials of the Locks and Canals and City Engineer

Mayor Jon J. Donovan today offered a solution to downtown traffic problems when he put forward the idea of the construction of a new thoroughfare from East Merrimack to Warren Street by bridging the canal at the side of the new, four-story building and extending it across the canal which passes under Central street at The Strand building striking land again in the rear of the Strand theatre at a point where a passageway from Warren street divides the theatre property and a part of the Middlesex Co.

He put the suggestion in letter form and sent it to the planning board, with a recommendation for a conference with officials of the Locks and Canals, the city engineer and the board at the earliest possible time.

The mayor admits the suggestion is one for the consideration of engineers, but feels it has practicality and feasibility and would allow a one-way thoroughfare from the Memorial Auditorium and Kearney Square districts to all sections to the south of the city.

His letter to the planning board follows:

Lowell Planning Board,
Patrick O'Hearn, Chairman,
Gentlemen—

Traffic congestion is the one big problem awaiting solution in our city today. I wish to commend the planning board for the active interest taken to secure a plan of operation that will tend to lessen the serious situation now existing. I offer the following suggestion to your board as a possible help in solving, in part at least, present traffic conditions, especially in and around the Memorial Auditorium and Kearney Square.

Request a conference with the officials of the Locks and Canals company, together with the city engineer, and your board relative to bridging the canal from East Merrimack street on the southern side between the Massachusetts canal and the new building of the Courier-Citizen company to a point where the canal bank runs along the property of the Strand theatre and the Middlesex company.

There is a passageway wide enough between these two properties to permit the passage of automobiles into Warren and Third streets.

If this plan is feasible and if apparently it is, unless the canal is found to be prohibitive, it would relieve traffic congestion in Kearney square and allow a one-way thoroughfare from Memorial Auditorium and Kearney Square to all sections in the south part of the city.

I am interested that this conference be arranged as soon as possible so that if the plan, I have proposed, is found to be feasible and practical that immediate steps may be taken to put it into effect.

Very truly yours,
JOHN J. DONOVAN, Mayor.

After a survey of the location of the proposed new thoroughfare it is possible to see that the water in question could be bridged. Its cost, however, is impossible to estimate. It might be reasonable, it might be prohibitive.

From the viewpoint of the layman it would seem that the biggest problem involved in the suggestion is the present passageway from Warren street, almost directly opposite from the new Ellis building, and which divides the Strand theatre and a building of the Middlesex Co. This is not a wide passageway, but might be adequate and general appearance are asked. For two-way passage its adequacy and general appearance is questioned.

Mayor Donovan believes the proposition has sufficient merit to warrant a thorough investigation and discussion and the planning board gladly will take it up in the manner suggested.

WILL PRESENT NEW TRAFFIC ORDINANCE

Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson of the police department has practically completed the work of drawing up a new ordinance to supplant the present traffic ordinance and it is believed that it will be presented to the city council at its next regular meeting, one week from tonight.

Supt. Atkinson, with Traffic Supervisor Edward Connors, was named to undertake a survey of the traffic situation by the public safety committee of the council and to prepare an ordinance to take the place of the present one. While the superintendent would not state what changes were incorporated in the proposed ordinance, he did say that the greater part of his report was given over to a revision of the rules as regards parking in the downtown streets and the general traffic rules.

One suggestion for relieving congestion that has met with the approval of the superintendent and which he believes can be done at very little cost, comparatively speaking, is that a bridge be built over the canal at the head of French street so that street might be connected with Dutton and made an artery for traffic from upper Merrimack street bound for Centralville and vice versa. To make this suggestion popular he believes both streets should be smoothed, paved and better lighted. He would not state that this was incorporated in his report but it is believed that it is.

An interesting legal battle to which the city is involved may come up for trial soon in relation to the ownership of the old Warren street fire engine house. City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds already has petitioned the land court to determine the ownership of the building, which is claimed by the city and the Middlesex company.

The house now is abandoned and at present is being used as a sort of store house and workshop for contractors engaged in the construction of the new Ellis building across the way. The many years the building was the headquarters of the Protective Co.

BARNEY BANKS IN COURT AGAIN

Louis Shapiro, alias Barney Banks, recently generated in the Melhorn murder case, was in the local district court this morning, charged with operating a motor vehicle after his license to do so had been suspended. The case was continued to Nov. 5.

The license of Shapiro, an "Blacker" was suspended by the state registrar at motor vehicles shortly after his Melhorn incident. He was formerly a taxicab driver in Lawrence.

MAKES REQUISITION FOR STREET SIGNS

A requisition has gone through from the office of the city engineer for the purchase of 25 new street designation signs for downtown thoroughfares limited to streets served by the White Way lighting system. These signs will be delivered within the month and are of black asbestos with aluminum letters. They are to be furnished by the Century Sign Co. of Boston, and will cost $10 per sign plus 50 cents a letter.

WIDOW IN COURT FIGHT WITH ESTATE TRUSTEES WHO SOLD PROPERTY

There goes to trial in East Cambridge tomorrow before a judge of probate sitting as a court of equity, one of the most important real estate cases Lowell has had in many years. It is the action brought against Herbert E. Ellis and Edward J. Robbins by the widow and minor children of the late Joseph E. Fiske in relation to the purchase and sale of the Fiske property in Central street.

The account of the sale by Ellis & Robbins, who sold the property after buying it and while serving as trustees of the estate, is objected to by Mrs. Fiske and the children on the contention that the profit made by the action brought against them should be turned over to the beneficiaries of the trust and that it cannot rightfully be held by the trustees because they cannot make a profit for property in Central street.

Little Value of Conference to Office

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30.—Gov. John M. Parker of Louisiana, in an address last night, touched on the open hearing at Bastrop last January into masked band activities in Morehouse parish, declaring he hoped and believed the noose yet would be placed around the necks of men guilty of the alleged murders of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard, of New Rouge.

The governor also discussed the present campaign, appealing to "those who love their homes, their families, state and country, not to vote for any man who does not unqualifiedly place himself against the Ku Klux Klan and pledges himself 'not to knowingly appoint a klansman to office.'"

He declared the Ku Klux Klan to be the real issue in the campaign. More than a dozen men charged.

FORMER LOWELL MAN WAS FOUND DEAD

As the result of a news item in yesterday's Sun, James D. Starr of 320 Westworth avenue, notified the police that the Albert Starr, who was found dead in Oak, Arkansas, a few days ago, was a former shipmate of his. Mr. Starr stated that the real name is John Dolinski and that he moved from this city to Nashua some time ago.

It was believed by Arkansas authorities that the dead man's relatives still lived in Lowell and Supt. Atkinson yesterday received a telegram asking his assistance in locating them.

HALLOWEEN PARTY. An enjoyable Halloween party was held at the home of Miss Dorothy M. Plouffe of 307 Concord street last evening. The success of the party was due to Misses Esther M. Plouffe, Mary Considine and Dorothy M. Plouffe. Refreshments were served and the party broke up at a late hour.

HOPPE SHOWS HIM

Herewith you see Willie Hoppe, greatest of billiardists, demonstrating a deft maneuver for the enlightenment of Tadao Suganuma, 21-year-old Japanese billiardist, who has shown surprising skill at the game. Tadao is more or less a pupil of Hoppe. The American has taken a great interest in the visitor and is helping to develop his game to championship form.

COUNTRY MAY HAVE TALKING FILMS

(By N.E.A. Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Perhaps by the time New Year's day rolls around, we shall be sitting in a movie house enjoying an opera, music and all, on the screen.

It's a mighty short time to New Year's, but there is no retraction of this highly hopeful prediction on the part of those who make it. Movies, they foresee, with all the accompanying words and other sounds that would bring the film versions almost to an equal plan of the drama itself.

What has this to do with radio? Nothing much, except that it is the brain-child of Lee De Forest, famous wireless engineer, and therefore brother of his many important radio inventions.

But perhaps this will eventually develop into the wireless transmission of talking movies, as some enthusiastic fans insist.

Not Perfect Yet
At present, however, De Forest has been striving to perfect his invention as a direct talking movie, even though it is ready for its first public trial. He calls the apparatus, which makes this combination possible, the phonofilm.

The beauty of the phonofilm is that it will make available to all communities the advantages that usually remain in the great centers of population such as New York and Chicago.

Take grand opera, for instance. There are few localities which can afford the upkeep of grand opera organizations where artists are paid anywhere from $300 to $3000 for appearing at an individual performance. With the phonofilm, however, it is possible to photograph not only the scene but the vocal and orchestral splendor of an opera or other performance. Photograph all the sound as well as action, simultaneously on motion picture film and the print and distribute it in the same way that ordinary motion pictures are printed and distributed.

The high cost evaporates, of course. You pay the artists for one performance and reproduce that performance in hundreds of places, wherever there is a motion picture theatre.

Popular Prices
Grand opera is only one phase of the story. The same idea can be and is being applied to vaudeville, lectures and concerts.

Entertainment now limited to communities that can afford to pay for the original performance, will be put on the phonofilm and distributed far and wide.

Almost 200 phonofilm selections have already been made. They include comedies, concert numbers, operatic arias in endless variety.

MISS ELIZABETH DREW AT WOMEN'S CLUB

An interesting lecture on "Reading the Bible" was presented to the members of the Middlesex Women's Club in Colonial hall, yesterday afternoon by Miss Elizabeth Drew, an English lecturer of note. The main theme of Miss Drew's lecture was the bringing out of the fact that the abiding character of the Bible is maintained by its absolute simplicity of phrasing and subjects on which it touches.

She quoted several extracts from the King James version of the Bible, printed in 1611, to show the place in our lives occupied by this book, and the primitive character of the metaphors which are still in our common speech even today, such as "heaping coals of fire," "thorns in the flesh," and "lilies of the field."

The striking fact is brought out in the Bible, stated Miss Drew, that through the thousands of years that man has been writing chronicles of his thoughts and actions, life is very much the same today as it was in the beginning. If we cast off the modern superficialities.

The youth of the Hebrews as a nation at the time of the inscription of the books in the Old Testament, was pointed out by the fact that many of their narratives are traceable directly to some other nation where they may be found in the folk lore of that country. Examples of this are the stories of the Creation and Moses which are taken from the Babylonians, and that of the Flood from the Chaldeans.

The Bible embodies all the main elements of modern literature and we may find within its pages, myths, laws, songs, history, prophecies, prophecy, poetry, vision, and literature.

The dignity of the Bible is personified by the story of Rebecca at the well, paths by the account of Lazarus, driven to die in the wilderness, and horror in the narrative of the Samaritans eating their children during a siege, as related in the book of Kings II.

She likened the book of Ecclesiastes to the writings of the Persian poet, Omar Khayyam, in their pessimistic view of life, and stated as her opinion which she had not verified, that both works were probably contemporaneous.

Throughout the lecture Miss Drew illustrated her points very ably with quotations from the Bible or from the works of authors. She had for her reference in many cases the famous works published by Matthew Tindal in London during the reign of James II.

with floodings, warning persons to leave the city and other advice. A man, who was out of masked band operations in Morehouse prior to the kidnapping of Daniel and Richard on Aug. 14, 1922, will go to trial at Boston next Monday. More serious charges in connection with the Daniel-Richard affair, are pending against 18 citizens of the parish.

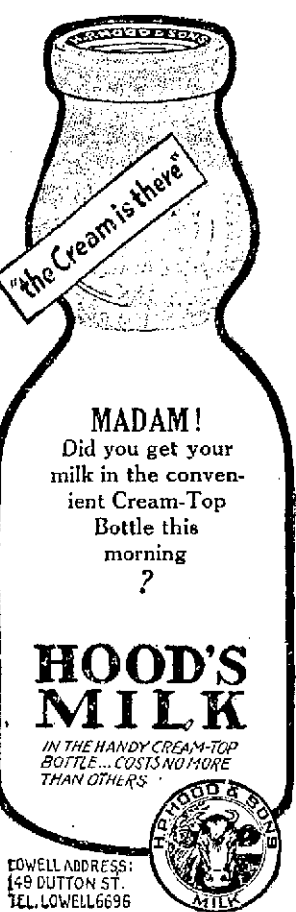

The governor referred briefly to the declaration of H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, in an address at Dallas, in which he grouped the Catholic, Jew and Negro in one classification as three elements that cannot become good American citizens. Mr. Parker said the policy of the Imperial Wizard was the policy of the Louisiana Klan. He said the imperial wizard declared the Klan to be a great organization, dedicated to the preservation of Americanism.

"I say to him, whenever he pronounces Ku Klux Klan is a Protestant organization that he defames the memory of those holy men who died and died in the fight against religious intolerance and insults every intelligent Protestant in this land," the governor said.

"MIGHTY CASEY"

Few persons know that E. Robinson Casey of Syracuse, N. Y., is the hero of the well-known poem "Casey at the Bat." Back in 1885, as a member of the old Detroit National League team, Casey struck out with the bases full in Minneapolis—not in Louisville. But Thayer, who wrote the poem, drew his inspiration from the game. Casey is a successful business man and was in New York recently, to attend a convention.

OUR AIRPLANE INDUSTRY STARVING TO DEATH

DETROIT, Oct. 30.—Dwight Davis, assistant secretary of war, told Detroit business men yesterday he would refuse to be held to the responsibility placed on him by the congress in the matter of adequate provision for the mobilization of material to meet war time needs, unless congress passed legislation to relieve what he had described as a serious situation as to the army air service.

Speaking at a business men's luncheon he declared the air service should be authorized to begin a 10 year building program on a modest scale and asserted that even that would not give the United States at the end of the 10 years as many planes as other nations now have.

"More serious still," Mr. Davis said, "our airplane industry is starving to death. Foreign nations are building up a flourishing airplane industry, capable of immediate conversion to war needs by large appropriations for plans and by heavily subsidizing commercial aviation. We are allowing this industry, absolutely vital to our national defense, to die a lingering death."

TO START WEEK DAY PARKER LECTURES

The week-day evening series of the Moses Greeley Parker lectures is to be opened at the Auditorium next Thursday evening by Arthur Weigall, recently inspector of antiquities in Egypt. His topic is "Tutankhmen and the Recent Discoveries in Upper Egypt."

"So prodigious and far-reaching was the sensation created by the discoveries made in the finding of the tomb of Tutankhmen, that Egypt was on every tongue throughout the civilized world. Ever since the excavation began and even now, the interest in the actual results of that remarkable contribution to archeology is unabated. There is a keen desire to learn the true particulars, as up to the present time, there has been no one, at least in this country, who could tell the whole story."

It has remained for Arthur Weigall, the noted Egyptologist and author of many books, and who was former inspector of antiquities in Egypt, to furnish actual details of the findings. Mr. Weigall was special correspondent for the London Daily Mail and the North American Newspaper Alliance, at the opening of the tomb and was one of the first to enter.

Arthur Weigall is perhaps one of the most versatile men before the public, and has achieved fame in several ways. He is especially gifted as a word painter, and the brilliancy of his delivery is emphasized by his strong personality, and his authentic knowledge of his subject.

The Valley of the Kings, and how it became a royal necropolis, the wonderful preservative power of its dry atmosphere, the beginning of the excavations which led to important finds, the opening of the tomb, of which Mr. Weigall was an eye witness, the marvelous objects which the interior revealed, the art value of the strange and amazing collection—all this is but a part of the absorbing lecture which Mr. Weigall will deliver. It is safe to venture that not a dull or stupid moment will be experienced throughout the entire evening.

THE SISTINE CHAPEL CHOIR CONCERT

While we are contemplating the concert by the Sistine Chapel choir, that comes to the Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday night, it is interesting to note the news items that are published concerning the travels of this unique body. Every member of which was trained in the Sistine choir.

Especially of note is the visit of the choir to the White House on the day of its concert in Washington, last Friday. President Calvin Coolidge received the Italian singers, with their worthy leader, Monsignor Antonio Rella, and after a short visit, had his picture taken with them.

Everywhere the choir has gone it has made itself a part of the municipality in which it has sung. Its opening number at each concert has been a song of greeting to the city, or to the archbishop of the diocese. It forms a sort of friendship between the choir and its audience that makes the evening concert an affair between friends. It is the greeting of the oldest corner of the old world to the new world. President Coolidge returned this greeting on the occasion of the choir's visit to the presidential mansion at the national capital.

No more beautiful setting is offered for the Lowell concert of the pope's choristers than the Memorial Auditorium, with its beautiful architecture, and with its rich stage hangings to match the purple and red cassocks and white surplices of the choristers.

The 16th century composers, Vittoria and Palestrina, whose music makes for itself an atmosphere peculiarly sacred, will be heard as they have never before been heard in Lowell. The thrilling effects of Palestrina's more modern creations will be added to make up a program of unexcelled quality and charm. William Cardinal O'Connell lends his patronage to the choir while touring New England.

The advance sale for Wednesday night's concert is quite encouraging and the prospect is that those who want good seats will have to apply early. The Sistine choir is one of the greatest musical organizations in the world and this opportunity to hear it may be the only one that will ever occur to the present generation in Lowell.

Bonar Law Dead

erable anxiety; but soon after extras appeared giving the news of his death.

Two Sons Killed in War

The ex-premier's daughter and his two surviving sons, Anthony and Richard, were in the bedside when death came. Two of his sons were killed in the World war, a sorrow from which Mr. Bonar Law never recovered.

When the Canadian Scotsman Mr. Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick, Canada, on Sept. 16, 1858—accepted his high office, a year ago, his friends well knew that his health was precarious. Outside that circle it was known only that he had contracted a throat complaint which prevented him from speaking.

Mr. Bonar Law was aware of his own condition and promised the Unionist party, when he accepted its mandate, that he would resign if and when he found his strength unequal to his work. He gave place to Stanley Baldwin, his chancellor of the exchequer, almost before his new government was fairly organized.

No official statement as to the nature of Mr. Bonar Law's illness was ever made, but the public drew an inference from the fact that Dr. Thomas Horder, who was attending him when he resigned and who has since been his physician, is one of the foremost cancer specialists.

During the interval spent in the country since his retirement from the prime ministry, Mr. Bonar Law had been able to take outdoor walks, and also motored considerably. The reports of these activities, which seemed to indicate that he was holding his own, had not prepared the public for the news of his comparatively rapid decline.

There has not yet been time for funeral arrangements, but there is every reason to believe it was Mr.

LYOYD GEORGE PAYS TRIBUTE TO BONAR LAW

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Word of the death of Andrew Bonar Law was received with deep regret by David Lloyd George upon his arrival today. News of the passing away of the British statesman, was met from a Lloyd George by his associates until he had finished breakfast in his private car. He then sent a message to the daughter of the late premier and in a statement to the press, said:

"I have heard the sad news with deep regret, tinged with relief that the long and severe suffering has at last come to a peaceful end. I saw him shortly before I left for this country and the news certainly was not unexpected by me."

"During the last years of the war and the first years of the peace, we worked in closer co-operation and partnership than probably any two ministers of the crown ever worked before. There was hardly a day we did not meet and not a day we did not communicate with each other, and interchange views. No man could wish for a more loyal, sagacious and helpful partner in the trust of our country."

"Although we had serious political differences that severed co-operation during the past year, our friendship never broke and we met just a few days before I left for these shores. It fills me with sadness to think I shall never meet him again."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Music and comedy flow freely at H. F. Keith's Theatre this week, with the former getting the verdict after six happy acts. The program has a deal of balance and variety for all that and contains much for the pleasure and edification of the vaudeville audience of today.

It is topped off by Lloyd Buch's entertainers who return for another slice of cake after a generous helping last season. This tea not young men stand out prominently as one of the best touring jazz orchestras of a decade. Their harmony is smooth, their technique faultless and they play the kind of tunes people like to hear when seeking an evening's entertainment. Two pianos are used as well as saxophones, violins, drums and traps and a double bass. They are real headliners in the realm of syncopation.

It is quite appropriate that the orchestra teams up with Margie Coate, a syncopation queen. In a specialty act that is one of the best ever heard at a local theatre, Miss Coate has an act of her own, during which she puts over a flock of topical songs in great style, but when she enters the stage act a few minutes later the combination is unbeatable. Miss Coate is a first water star in her own right, make no mistake about that, but when two starry acts combine, there's only one answer, a regular Milky Way.

Comedy chatter, songs and dancing make up the acts of Mary Maxwell and Harry Gelson, presenting "The Modern Romeo and Juliet," and Francis Simpson and Earl Dean in "Shop Stealers." Each act has its highlights in fun and each well merited the prolonged applause accorded by last evening's audience.

One might travel across the continent and back without running into any better dancing stuff than showed by Pat Grant who teams up with Eva Leonard, billed as "Just Two Kids." Each sings a bit, too, but the footwork of Grant stands out most conspicuously.

As an opener Marguerite and Alvarez show some new tricks along the line of aerial entertainment. This week's motion pictures maintain a high standard. The feature is "Dollar Devils," starring Cullen Landis and Eva Novak and there are Pathe News Weekly, Topics of the Day and an Acrop Table.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A capacity house saw a grand show at the Opera House last night, Tommie Martelle, supported in his "Fashion Show" by the Lutteringer Players, captivating his audience at the start and holding their intense interest until the final curtain.

As a female impersonator Mr. Martelle is a delight. He can wear clothes, carry them well, and almost make you forget for the moment that he is a member of the sterner sex. There is a good plot running through the three acts of the show that is capably handled. The success of Jack Bolen, played by Mr. Martelle, in impersonating Ida Rogers, a lingerie drummer, results in everybody getting married in the final scene and everything turning out as it should. Mr. Martelle plays the part with the skill expected of him. The Lutteringer players give him perfect support and aid greatly in putting things over in the best of style.

In addition to good costumes and fine acting in his part, Mr. Martelle delighted with songs and dances, his "Fashion Show" and "A New Fashion Gown for an Old Fashioned Girl" numbers were especially fine. Clever John Rowe, as Squire Tutwiler, put over his "Swing, Sam Swing" song as the musical bit of the night. This was, with all respect, probably due more to the costume, a brightly decorated orange bathing suit, pink parasol, and what looked like a London cap, than to the voice. Wherever the appeal had its source it was there and Mr. Rowe was encored several times. The audience would probably have kept him out on the stage yet if he hadn't asked them to try their voices on the same song.

When Miss Hazel Corinne sang "I Want to Learn to Dance," she surprised the audience with a pleasing voice and some nifty stepping. She was all sweetness in this song and put it over in real style. The contagious laugh of Edna Earl Andrews helped her more than anything else to put over "Oh, I'm All Right," after a few too many lifting exercises between Mr. Martelle's back and her lips. Mr. Brown was well worked up with his love complex and went across his usual.

The musical numbers, as follows, all went over in good style:

Chorus, "Fashion Girl," Mr. Martelle
"I'd Like to Go on a Honeymoon With You,"
Hazel Corinne and Victor Browne
"Oh, I'm All Right," Miss Andrews
"Louisiana Lullaby," Mr. Martelle
"Swim, Sam, Swim," John Rowe

Blotchy skin— upset stomach— constipation— Ills that embitter the lives of millions... yet, in most cases, needless!

Failure to nourish the body properly, or—failure to remove its waste matter regularly—these are at the root of 99 out of every 100 cases of constipation, skin trouble, digestive disorders.

When the intestinal tract is sluggish and weak, the whole body becomes flooded with poisons: the blood is impoverished, the skin perhaps affected. The digestive organs may not be equal to the strain.

The really startling results which Fleischmann's Yeast has given so many sufferers are easily explained. 2 or 3 cakes a day of this fresh, natural food contain the very elements needed to help build up the body afresh. The millions of tiny living plants in each yeast cake make digestion easy, and give the intestinal muscles regular, healthy exercise.

The wealth of vitamins and proteins increases the white corpuscles in the blood, and gives new tone and vigor to the whole system.

Remember that Fleischmann's Yeast for health comes only in the tin foil wrapper, and cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it.

Eat it before or between meals, plain, in water or fruit juices, or spread on crackers or on bread, whichever you prefer.

Send for free booklet, "The New Found Value of Fleischmann's Yeast in Building Health." THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, Dept. 188-B, 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

"When I say that I used to dread the sight, smell, or taste of food—well, it's the absolute truth," writes Homer Gauthier of Beverly Road, Brooklyn, N. Y. "I would come home and mother would have the table fairly graining with good healthy foods—yet just as sure as fate, about three hours later a thousand demons would seem to start fighting inside me." Then he began eating Fleischmann's Yeast. In less than a month "my agonies vanished. I gradually indulged in the foods which used to have the most appalling effect, but nothing doing—they couldn't annoy me!"

"I believe I tried every kind of salts advertised in America," writes Wilson Lovett, of Louisville, Kentucky, "and the same thing with pills. I ran, played tennis, rode horseback, took abdominal massages—still constipation stuck with me.... After about eight weeks of Fleischmann's Yeast I was able to do without pills or salts of any sort. It is now eight months since I have found it necessary to use a cathartic of any kind—and this, understand, is after a condition of chronic constipation that had lasted for seventeen years."

ST. ANNE'S HAVE FAST QUINTET

The St. Anne's Social and Athletic club basketball team has organized for the season of 1923-24, and would like to hear from all strong teams like to play amateur rules. The team is stronger by far than in previous years, and is again under the management of Bertrand Durkin, which insures a way of great possibilities.

Games are being planned with teams in Boston, Haverhill, Lowell, Lynn, and other nearby towns. The team would like to get games in Lowell and surrounding towns.

It is expected to get into action immediately, and the team will be in touch with Bertrand Durkin, Jr., 11 Commercial Street, Lowell, Mass.

FISH ARE STOCKED IN NEARBY PONDS

Fish given to the state by Col. Butler Ames are now being taken from the private pond on his North Peabody estate and being sent to the various ponds. ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Lowell Girls to Discuss Plans for Fall and Winter Basketball Season

The Lowell Girls Athletic association will hold a meeting in the park department office, City Hall this evening for the purpose of making plans for the coming fall and winter basketball season.

A basketball league for girls will be started for the coming season, including those in the grammar and parochial schools, also girls in the preparatory schools, such as high, normal and Roger Hall schools and members of the Girls City club and Y.W.C.A. A third group will be composed of young girls who are employed throughout the day and will represent the various industries.

A field hockey league will also be started at once, but because of the tardiness in starting the team only a limited number will be allowed.

A bowling league, with the same classification as the basketball league will be organized.

Plans for national and school teams for ice hockey will be developed in the near future so that various rinks may be prepared for flooding when the cold weather sets in.

Dr. Frank Flinnegan of the board of health, is the physical and health adviser of this association. Suppl. of Parks John W. Keenan will be in charge of the athletic contests. Miss Mary Dowd will be the park board representative as president of the association.

THE NUT CRACKER

by Joe Williams

Four major league managers are named. Much more than being picked. What the experts call a circuit smash is nothing more than a two-base hit with a grand slam.

William Tidwell has gone in for the drama. We always heard he was upstage.

A moral victory may be a beautiful spectacle to behold but the bookies never pay off on one.

The fellow who staggers in with two black eyes, a broken nose and a frayed ear and exclaims, "You ought to see the other guy," has probably just scored a moral victory.

Until you have learned to smile and suffer at one and the same moment you will never be able to enjoy the full delights of a moral victory.

Yale has scored more moral victories and lost more football games than any team in the world.

Tommy Gibbons scored a moral victory at Shelby and on the strength of it Peppers was paid $5000 to exchange club placards with Firo.

In the same class with moral victories, as practical propositions, are left-handed fist books, sea-going canoes and celluloid boats.

Just how and English heavyweights really are may be judged from the fact that they can't even score a moral victory.

Whenever you hear a jazz band playing a funeral march you know it down that a glorious moral victory has been scored somewhere.

On the golf links when a player turns in a moral victory it means that he has counted all his strokes.

Peppers did not register a moral victory. A horse that will do his training on his own and stout can't know much about morals.

Building Nelson says there was no such thing as a moral victory in the old days. "You would allow any of them silly guys around the joint."

The ability to lose regularly by a close margin. That's all you need to lead the league in moral victories.

JOHNNY AVILA vs. YOUNG TANSEY, Roxbury Crescent Rink, Thursday Eve.

LOOK FOR KAYO IN AVILA-TANSEY BOUT

The possibility of a kayo terminating the Johnny Avila-Young Tansey bout here next Thursday night is creating great interest in fight circles in Lowell and Roxbury.

Avila's supporters believe Johnny can take all that Tansey can give and still be able to slip over his well known haymaker.

They point to his success in his first bout with Young Martin Flaherty. For nine rounds Flaherty hit Avila with everything but the water bucket, and had a most commanding lead as the tenth round got underway. Then like a bolt out of a clear sky Avila let go a terrific sock with his right that caught Martin on the point of the jaw and the latter went down, there to remain while the referee lotted the fatal ten.

It will be the same story Thursday night, say the backers of the South End boy. Tansey they admit is more skillful than the Lowell boy, but they do not believe he can compare with Avila as a hitter. Hence they are willing to string along with the Spindieley representative in the battle.

Lowell Roxbury way fans feel Tansey will dispose of Avila as he did Flaherty. They smile when they hear of Avila's hitting ability and point to Tansey's long list of kayo victims as justification for their claim that Tansey is also some knockout artist. Tansey is planning to bar at Avila as he did against Flaherty and launch such a bewildering assortment of hooks and jabs that he will force Avila to drop his guard and enable him to get over a sleep producer.

Johnny Duffy and Benny O'Neil who fought a fast and spectacular eight round number here a few weeks ago with Duffy getting the decision will be back in the semi-final this week. In the preliminaries Ray Lencourt and Frankie Crane, both of Lawrence, will meet in one and Larry Robinson of Cambridge and Bill Broderick of South Boston will swap punches in the other.

Grayson's sterling colt.

My Own was a rival of Zev's for selection as America's representative in the $100,000 contest with the English Derby winner at Belmont Park. They have never met but, barring unforeseen developments in the race, the championship is expected to have an important, if not decisive bearing on their rival claims to American three-year-old honors for the year.

The distance, one mile and three-quarters is declared by My Own partisans to be especially favorable to that thoroughbred, for Grayson's entry has proved a consistently good distance performer. Zev, however, demonstrated conclusively, his staying qualities in the mile and a half test with Papyrus.

Partisan point out that inasmuch as the championship is not a match race, much will depend upon whether Zev and My Own are able to race on an even footing in the face of opposition from the rest of the field. Should one or the other lose after being handicapped, either at the barrier or in the running, the test would be inconclusive.

Among rivals of Zev and My Own in the race may be the Greentree star, the Washington handicap at Latonia Saturday. Zev is declared to be showing all the speed and stamina that carried him to victory in the international. The colt was to have been shipped to Latonia today but Hildreth changed his plans and now expects to ship his charge tomorrow afternoon.

HOPPE BEATS HAGENLACHER

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—White Hoppe, the defending champion stepped out in front by his last night's victory over Erich Hagenlacher of Germany in the first match of the world's 18.2 ball line billiard championship tournament. His victory was not impressive and his followers will watch his next appearance with nervousness.

THIS IS THE "DO A GOOD TURN" FOR THE BOY WEEK YOU SCOUTS OF LOWELL

An Investment of $7200 in the Future Manhood of the City is Asked

The Boy Scout movement is distinctively an asset to our country for the development of efficiency, virility and good citizenship.

—Theodore Roosevelt.

A campaign to raise the sum of $7200 to carry on the Boy Scout movement in Lowell for the next year was inaugurated yesterday. Civic pride should enlist your generous co-operation. There are 9000 boys in Lowell available to accept the creed of the Boy Scouts.

Help bring them in for the following reasons:

BOY SCOUT TRAINING is a vital necessity for the future welfare of the community. BOY SCOUT TRAINING will perpetuate the ideals of manly citizenship in the youth of Lowell. UN-AMERICAN DOCTRINE will avail but little when pitted against the glorious principles of the Boy Scouts.

THE BOY SCOUT of today is the future citizen of Lowell. He will build upon your foundations. TO HELP THE WEAK and oppressed, to love and seek the best things of life is the aim of a Boy Scout.

PUBLIC SERVICE is a cardinal principle of the Boy Scout.

A Lowell Boy Scout

Every boy, on becoming a Scout, takes this SCOUT PROMISE.

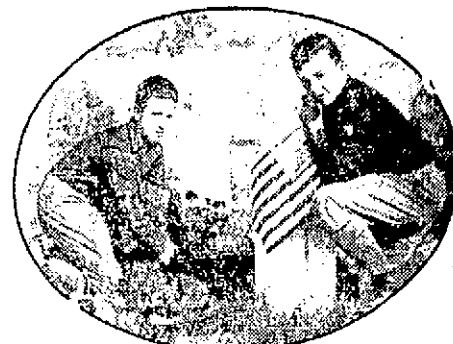

On my honor I will do my best—To do my duty to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law; To help other people at all times; To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

WHY YOU SHOULD CONTRIBUTE TO THE BOY SCOUTS' CAMPAIGN

Just a Thought on Civic Responsibility

Every citizen has a civic obligation to fulfill, if one would be a worthwhile citizen of a community. The fact that it is voluntary service makes it even more mandatory. You may not care to hold public office. That is one kind of service. But if you feel also to become interested and help movements for the civic betterment of Lowell, may it not be reasonably asked, where is your public spirited citizenship in evidence? The men behind the Boy Scout movement are just citizens like yourself. They simply ask you for that same show of public spirit which they are offering to the city. It is only through voluntary co-operation on the part of public spirited citizens that anything of substantial merit is achieved in a community.

The Boy Scout movement is so broad and thoroughly American in its scope that it should unite all citizens in its support.

You are too old to be a Boy Scout, but not too old to help make manly American boys of the youth of Lowell. What can you do for yourself make it possible for a boy scout to do. And best of all, why not your boy?

Help the Boy Scouts make Lowell one of the greatest of American cities.

in the once famous playing town and makes plenty of money with this experiment. But best of all, Ruggies marries into the family of Hon. J. J. Donovan, who has been formerly served as a senator. Ruggies is a member of the Lowell society, a member of the Lowell society where real happiness is concerned. In the all-star cast, besides Miss Wilson, are Edward Horton, Louis Dreyer and Charles Ogle.

"The Fair Theater" is the title of Dorothy Mackaill's latest starring vehicle. The second feature of the Merrimack Square program. It is the story of a theatrical life on New York's Broadway with Miss Mackaill, former Ziegfeld Follies star, furnishing the thrills, assisted by Anna Lehr, William Austin, Lillian Leighton, Thomas Holding, Frank Elliot, Kaiti Pasha, Milton Brown and Sissy Brandy.

The usual high class comedy and an International News reel, featuring the big turf classic between Zev and Papyrus, round out the program.

THE RIALTO THEATRE.

A real high class program in every respect can be seen at the Rialto the first half of the week. The pictures which opened at that theatre last night are both new to Lowell and they are both pictures of the highest type, from any angle you look at them. The chief attraction of course, is "The Custard Cup," starring Mary Carr, who made "Over The Hill" famous by her wonderful portrayal of the mother. Her characterization as Mrs. Penfield is a masterpiece. She is a widow who radiates happiness and sunshine wherever she goes, in spite of the fact that her own life has never been a bed of roses. She is a widow who has adopted three motherless children and she earns her living by doing laundry work and manual labor for the rich folk. She is the ruler of the "Queen" of "Custard Court," a group of dwellings inhabited by a poor class of people. Whenever anyone went wrong, or whenever anyone needed advice or got in trouble, they always went to "Penzie." She seemed to mother the whole of "Custard Court." Of course, the majority of people living in "Custard Court" were law-abiding citizens, but there lived in this court a notorious gang of counterfeiters, who carried on their nefarious work right next door to "Penzie." How "Penzie" gets involved with the counterfeiters and how she manages to get out of it supplies "The Custard Cup" with many thrills. One thrilling scene in "The Custard Cup" will never be forgotten by anyone who sees it. It is the burning of the large steam boat, and the passengers are forced to leap from the boat into the water. The rescue work is done by a hydroplane.

The companion attraction is just checkful of thrills and excitement. The title of the picture is "One Million in Jewels" and the stars are J. P. McGowan and Helen Holmes. The plot deals with a gang of smugglers who are trying to bring into this country early 1900's and is the story of the child, Burke, the Russian crown jewels, hood of two boys and a girl. The girl played by J. P. McGowan, is given the task of capturing the criminals, millionaire, and the other a poor boy goes to Havana and there most who lives with a drunken step-father.

The three are great friends and the two boys, in a friendly way, try to guide each other in gaining the respect of the girl. The story is interesting and at times draws the tears to eyes as the poor boy strives to overcome his poverty and make himself equal to the rich boy in his lady's eyes. The second part of the story is of those fateful days back in 1915. The poor boy has grown up and is the owner of a successful express business but still believes that the girl is out of his reach. Then comes

THE STRAND THEATRE

"Children of the Dust," featuring Johnny Walker, Pauline Garon and Lloyd Hughes, and "Bell Boy 13," with Douglas MacLean in the leading role. Two leading features at the Strand theatre for the first part of the week and both are of an exceptionally high quality and furnish an enjoyable entertainment in the theatre-going. Another feature is the showing of the international horse race between Zev, the American horse, and Papyrus, the English Derby winner. "Children of the Dust" is a story in two parts. The first part is back in the halcyon days of the early 1900's and is the story of the child, Burke, the Russian crown jewels, hood of two boys and a girl. The girl played by J. P. McGowan, is given the task of capturing the criminals, millionaire, and the other a poor boy goes to Havana and there most who lives with a drunken step-father.

the war. The rich boy enlists immediately and the poor boy, to earn enough to support his guardian, waits for the draft. From this point on the story is filled to the brim with human interest. Douglas MacLean is as good as ever in not a little better in his latest production, "Bell Boy 13." As the nephew of Thrown on his own resources, he becomes a bell-hop in a big hotel. The outcome of this story too is well worth seeing. The international horse race is part of the news weekly. The whole race is shown from the start to the finish and shows clearly how Marie Sande, up on Zev, outraced Smiling Steve Donohue, pilot of the English horse. A comedy and the usual musical numbers complete the program.

A Valuable Hint for your Finer Fabrics

FOR the starching of her Finer Fabrics, every woman knows the trouble of boiling starch, stirring it all the time so it won't become "lumpy". You can avoid all this by using Lint, the remarkable starch discovery.

New Starch Discovery

LINT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Lint is thoroughly dissolved and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance.

Be sure to use Lint according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Lint stiff or jelly-like. This is why Lint goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches, and is much easier to iron with.

Even ordinary cotton goods, napkins, table-cloths, curtains, etc., have a cool, soft, pliable finish like pure linen when starched with Lint.

Lint penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

Lint is sold by all grocers, 10c—Perfection in starching is guaranteed or your money refunded.

NEW SENSATION IN STOKES CASE

Testimony Made Public Theft of Secret Code of U. S. Government in 1908

Horace G. Knowles, Former Minister to Rumania, Called to Witness Stand

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Testimony making public the theft of the secret code of the United States government from the location at Bucharest, Rumania, in 1908, is today a part of the record of the sensational divorce action of W. E. D. Stokes against Helen Edw. Stokes.

The story was brought out when Samuel Catmeyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes, called to the stand Horace G. Knowles, former diplomat and minister to Rumania at the time of the theft. He had previously testified that he had seen Mrs. Stokes in the apartment of Edgar T. Wallace, the principal correspondent.

Mr. Catmeyer sought to make Mr. Knowles admit that Ellen Root, then secretary of state, had transferred him to Nicaragua as a result of his connection with the theft. This Mr. Knowles strenuously denied, and also said he had no personal knowledge of the lawyer's assertion that Mr. Root later had recovered the code by purchasing it from a Russian for $25,000 after the Japanese ambassador at St. Petersburg had refused to pay $40,000 for it.

Placed on the stand by counsel for Stokes, Mr. Knowles said he had furnished information concerning the theft of the code from an affiliated firm of Wilmington lawyers.

Mr. Knowles testified that he had been unable to find a safe hiding place for the code book in the Bucharest legation, and that it had disappeared shortly after his arrival. He later learned that a French servant in the legation had stolen it, and that it was offered to the Japanese ambassador to St. Petersburg by a Russian. It was the Japanese, Mr. Knowles said, who notified the American government of the book's reappearance. Mr. Knowles said he did not know in what manner the state department ultimately had recovered the code.

His transfer to Nicaragua in 1909, he said, was due to Mr. Root's disapproval of a temporary commercial treaty which he had entered into with the Russian government.

HALLOWEEN PARTY AT THE KASINO

Although there will be numerous Halloween parties in town tomorrow night, it is doubtful if any of them will reach such elaborate proportions as the proposed affair in the Kasino, which is noted for its "big-time" affairs.

One of the biggest and jolliest crowds of the season is expected to pay a visit to the scene of the party tomorrow night. The event will be conducted along the lines of a character party.

BLEACHERY TO START

Final Installations of Machinery at Whiteley Plant Are Now Underway

With final machinery installations under way this week it is expected that the new Whiteley Bleachery will commence operations some time in December. The new plant, just over the branch line on Lakeview avenue, has been finished by the contractors.

Howard L. Whiteley, who last year resigned as agent of the Lowell Bleachery, is head of the new concern which bears his name. The corporation is capitalized at $200,000, and has 20 acres of land and a water power with a potential development of 250 h. p. Water privileges give a continuous minimum supply of 1,400,000 gallons of water per hour.

The weekly requirement of the plant will be 600,000 gallons. Thus an adequate and dependable supply of fresh water, the most important essential in all bleaching, dyeing and cleansing processes, is assured.

Three buildings of modern mill construction have been erected, containing a floor area of over 18,000 square feet, the principal structures being 50x200 feet. In this building machinery is now being installed.

The head of the new corporation was over 20 years with the Lowell Bleachery and enjoys a wide acquaintance and high reputation in the mill trade. Many of his processes have been adopted and are now in use in a number of the principal textile plants and bleacheries in this territory.

POLICE CHIEF ISSUES HALLOWEEN WARNING

The annual police warning, directed at the portion of the city's youth having mischievous inclinations around Halloween time, was issued this morning through the office of Superintendent Atkinson, who stated that extra details of police will be placed in service tomorrow night to insure adequate protection of private and public property.

In his admonition, the chief made it distinctly understood that such practices as ringing of bells or gates, turning on fire alarms, breaking down fences, turning out street lamps, or, in fact, any abuse of property, will not be tolerated, and has issued rigid instructions to the men in his department to bring in all violators of the law.

A new feature of the protective policy of the police in connection with Halloween this year will be the arrest of the entire personnel of the motorcycle squad to night duty tomorrow night. The members of the squad will patrol the residential sections of the city in their machines, and it is felt that in this way the tendency of young America to indulge in misdeeds will be minimized.

and everybody knows what that means when applied to the popular Kasino. Favors will be distributed and a general good time will be in order. The management has decorated the spacious hall with gay Halloween colors and nothing will be lacking in the matter of ghosts, goblins and witches, not to mention the barrels of fun to be derived from a party of this nature.

MORE MOTORISTS SCORED BY JUDGE ENRIGHT IN DISTRICT COURT TODAY—OTHER CASES.

It was "automobile day" in district court this morning, seven violators of the motor vehicle laws, including driving without license or registration, operating without headlights or tail-lights and operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, receiving severe censure from Judge Enright for what he characterized as "utter disregard for law and authority and a menace on our public highways."

Besides the automobile cases, a small quota of other offenses was heard during a lengthy session.

Ralph W. E. Wainwright was charged with operating an automobile without a rear light. Motorcyclist Officer Charles Hamilton said defendant told him he left his license and registration at home. "That's the spirit and disposition being shown by motorists," commented Judge Enright, "and I believe such offenders should be taught a lesson." A fine of $10 was imposed.

Clifford Novel appeared in answer to charges of operating a motorcycle without license or registration. For

ANDREW BONAR LAW, FORMER BRITISH PREMIER, DEAD

Passed Away Early This Morning
Following Acute Attack of Septic Pneumonia—Was One of Most Powerful Political Figures in Europe—
Often Called the "Roosevelt of Europe"

LONDON, Oct. 29.—(By the Associated Press) Andrew Bonar Law, one of the most powerful political figures in Europe and for seven months prime minister of Great Britain, died in his modest London home at 3 o'clock this morning.

Five months ago—on May 20—he resigned the premiership on account of a throat malady which for a long time had troubled him. Even then he was reluctant to admit that his career was finished and retained his seat in the house of commons, where he since made two or three appearances. Ten days ago, Mr. Bonar Law returned to London from Brighton after a sojourn of several weeks. His physicians issued a statement to the effect that he had contracted a severe chill, but the public did not suspect that the end was so near. They read in this morning's newspapers that he had developed septic pneumonia and a condition that gave rise to consid-

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 30.—After a series of half hour postponements that commenced at 9.30 this morning and ended at 10.30 when the racing committee announced that there would be no satisfactory sailing conditions today, the second of the international schooner race series was postponed until tomorrow. A fog of such density that motor cars and pedestrians in the city were bewildered and lost, prevailed during the early hours of the morning and those on the waterfront could not see a boat length. Added to this condition was the complete lack of wind. It took the slightest semblance of a zephyr was noticeable until well after nine o'clock and even then when the brilliant sun had banished the fog in the city the flags on the public buildings were lifeless and at Camperdown, at the mouth of the harbor, the most optimistic report said

Lowell to Be Honored With Exemplification of Fourth
Degree on May 4

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Oct. 30.—The date for the spring exemplification of the fourth degree in the Knights of Columbus for Massachusetts was definitely set today for May 4 in the Lowell Memorial Auditorium. The matter was determined after a special committee from Bishop Delany Assembly of Lowell had conferred with Louis A. Watson, master of the fourth degree in this province.

Candidates for the degree will come from all over the state. The selection of Lowell as the place for the exemplification of the degree, puts this city in the same category with Boston and Springfield. No other city offers the facilities that Boston, Springfield and Lowell do for an event of this magnitude, and hence the request of the Delany assembly becomes a reality with the definite selection of the date today.

Mayor Donovan Offers Suggestion For the Solution of Traffic Problems

Would Bridge Canal and Construct New Thoroughfare From East Merrimack to Warren Street—In Letter to Planning Board His Honor Recommends Conference With Officials of the Locks and Canals and City Engineer

Mayor John J. Donovan today offered a solution to downtown traffic problems when he put forward the idea of the construction of a new thoroughfare from East Merrimack to Warren street by bridging the canal at the side of the new Courier-Citizen building and extending it across the canal which passes under Central street at The Strand building striking land again in the rear of The Strand theatre at a point where a passageway from Warren street divides the theatre property and a part of the Middlesex Co.

He put the suggestion in letter form and sent it to the planning board, with a recommendation for a conference with officials of the Locks & Canals, the city engineer and the board at the earliest possible time.

The mayor admits the suggestion is one for the consideration of engineering experts, but feels it has practicality and feasibility and would allow a one-way thoroughfare from the Memorial Auditorium and Kearney Square districts to all sections to the south of the city.

A committee was appointed to represent the Lowell club at the Boys' club benefit dance to be given in Lawrence on Nov. 13. The delegation was named at the invitation of the Lawrence Rotary club. Secretary George L. Nelson of the Lawrence club was a visitor at today's luncheon.

WIDOW IN COURT FIGHT WITH ESTATE TRUSTEES WHO SOLD PROPERTY

There goes to trial in East Cambridge tomorrow before a judge of probate sitting as a court of equity, one of the most important real estate cases Lowell has had in many years. It is the action brought against Herbert L. Ellis and Edward J. Robbins by the widow and minor children of the late Josiah E. Flske in relation to the purchase and sale of the Flske property in Central street.

The account of the sale by Ellis & Robbins, who sold the property after buying it and while serving as trustees of the estate, is objected to by Mrs. Flske and the children on the contention that the profit made by the trustees as a matter of law, should be turned over to the beneficiaries of the trust and that it cannot rightfully be held by the trustees because they cannot make a profit for property in Central street.

Hitch in Transmission

PARIS, Oct. 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Some hitch in transmission appears to have held up the queries which, according to reports from London, the British cabinet sent to Premier Poincare last night as to how the committee of experts to examine Ger-

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups and saves about 50% easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get an much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with water, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never sickens.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and leads the sore, irritated membranes to rest and easily that it is really satisfying.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Pledges Himself Not to Know-

Parker of Louisiana in an address last night, touched on the open hearing at Bastrop last January in which he declared that he hoped and believed the noose yet would be placed around the necks of men guilty of the alleged murders of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard, of Mer Rouge.

The governor also discussed the present campaign, appealing to "those who love their homes, their families, state and country, not to vote for any man who does not unqualifiedly place himself against the Ku Klux Klan and pledges himself 'not to knowingly appoint a klansman to office.'"

He declared the Ku Klux Klan to be the real issue in the campaign. More than a dozen men charged

As the result of a news item in yesterday's Sun, James D. Starr of 320 Wentworth avenue, notified the police that the Albert Shear who was found dead in Ozark, Arkansas, a few days ago, was a former shopmate of his. Mr. Starr states that Shear's real name is John Dobrowski and that he moved from this city to Nashville some time ago. It is read by Arkansian authorities that the dead man's relatives still lived in Lowell and Supt. Atkinson yesterday received a telegram asking his assistance in locating them.

REPORTED ACCIDENT BY TELEPHONE

Shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Helen G. Whittle of Peterboro, N. H., reported to the local police station by telephone that while driving her machine through this city, shortly after noon, a boy had run out in front of the machine and had been knocked down. She stated that she stopped and ascertained the nature of the boy's injuries and then, confused by the accident, forgot to notify the police. As there evidently was no intention on her part to avoid the responsibility, Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson instructed her as to the steps she should take in reporting the accident to the state authorities and warned her of the criminal charge incurred in leaving the scene of an accident without making her identity known.

The boy struck by her machine was Victor Bomil of 53 Auburn street. He received only minor bruises and was able to walk to his own home after the accident.

BOY SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Drive for $7200 Fund Got Away to Good Start Last Evening

The campaign for $7200 to carry on the work of the Boy Scouts of America, got away to a brilliant start last evening with a dinner at Maria's restaurant on Central street, where a gathering of over 50 prominent men of the city gathered to formulate plans and receive final instructions, with Dr. John H. Lambert presiding over the meeting.

Before the commencement of the meal, Dr. Lambert addressed the meeting for a few moments on the work that has already been done in Lowell and of the plans the executive council has already made to extend the scope of their activities. He also announced as a preliminary to the start of the campaign that one man had been found who had offered to give $250 if nine other men could be found to donate a like amount, and expressed his belief that this could be accomplished in view of the fact that already several of the nine have been found.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dudley H. Dorr, of Boston, the chairman of the New England Regional Scout executive board, who gave a very interesting explanation of the meaning of the scout movement, and of its necessity in order that the small boy's energy would find a natural outlet in doing something useful and healthful, instead of digging caves in an unhealthy place on the river bank, where they could play as thieves and pirates.

Mr. Dorr explained the scout code of laws and the oath, to those present. The list of prospective givers was distributed to the workers present and to the team captains and final instructions were given in the methods to be used in campaigning. The meetings of the workers will be held in Colver hall at 12.15 every day for the giving of reports on progress. The teams which are working for the scouts are constituted as follows:

Games, such as Rabbit in the Hat, Farmer in the Dell, Drop the Handkerchief, London Bridge and many other children's games were played. Refreshments of apples and lollypops were served and a good time had been a most enjoyable evening.

The prize for the winner of the doorknob contest was awarded to Miss Miriam Dillon for the apple contest. Alfred Kaye for the punning the tall on the doorknob, Miss Davis and for the punnet contest Miss E. Dillon.

The committee in charge of the successful party were as follows: Refreshment, Dorothy Davis, John Chapman, Jessie Colmer and Gertrude Wilson; Games, Ida Ferguson, Elsie van Steinhilber and Len He Moors.

TO RELIEVE PAIN AND BACKACHE

Women May Depend upon
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I had heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that when I realized I needed to take something to relieve my pains and backache, and to help build me up I began to take it. I had been sick off and on for years and barely weighed a hundred pounds, but now I have had such good results that I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to every one. —Mrs. J. J. Hines, 3039 15th Ave. South, Minneapolis, Minn."

Finds a True Friend
"Every woman who values her health should be proud to have a true friend like the Vegetable Compound," says Mrs. W. E. Shaw, 427 Walnut street, Chicago, Illinois. "I had female weakness so badly that I could not stand on my feet. Half of my time was spent in bed and, but pain in my back which were unbearable. I tried everything I would think of to help myself, and when a friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began taking it at once. I recommend it without hesitation."

More Motorists Scored

operating without a license, he was ordered to pay a fine of $20, and an additional $5 on the registration complaint.

Herbert E. Shorten, for the same offense, was fined the same amount. Another violator of the motor vehicle laws was Walter H. Collins, who was fined $25 for operating without a license and $5 for driving without a registration.

Andre Coutu pleaded not guilty to operating in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, and was continued until Nov. 6.

Joseph A. Moynard, charged with operating an automobile truck without head or tail lights, was fined $10 on the former charge and $5 on the latter. The court said he wished the officers would bring in some motorists who persist in using glaring headlights on their machines.

Mannal Aguirre pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and was fined $100. A non-support charge against James P. Campbell was continued to Nov. 6.

His wife testified that he was a good fellow on the outside, but abusive at home. "An outside saint," remarked the court.

John Silva, on a non-support charge, was granted a continuance until Nov. 3.

"Jumped the Sidewalk"
Endangering the lives and safety of the public was the charge preferred against George Gondas of Boston, whose machine, on Aug. 11, went on the sidewalk in Dummer street and caused considerable alarm and commotion among a group of by-standers gathered there.

Officer Frank Moloney testified that he was seated in a police machine near the scene of the incident, when Gondas' machine is said to have "jumped the sidewalk." He said Gondas disappeared on foot, but that he succeeded in getting his number. Gondas later presented himself at police headquarters and reported the affair. Officer William Liston offered corroborative testimony.

Gondas, testifying in his own behalf, stated that he came to this city from Boston on the day in question. He drove a friend's car, he said.

Late in the afternoon of the same day, Saturday, Aug. 11, he had considerable difficulty in starting his machine in Dummer street. Being not thoroughly acquainted with the mechanism of the car he stepped on the accelerator when he intended to step on the brake. As a result the machine speeded up on the sidewalk in front of a coffee house and struck six persons, seriously injuring at least three of them.

The court said he felt defendant was guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $100 and be committed to the house of correction for a period of one month.

On appeal, he was required to furnish $200 bonds for his appearance in superior court on the first Monday of November.

COUNTRY MAY HAVE TALKING FILMS

(By N.E.A. Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Perhaps by the time New Year's day rolls around, we shall be sitting in a movie house enjoying an opera, music and all, on the screen.

It's mighty short time to New Year's, but there is no retraction of this highly hopeful prediction on the part of those who make it. Movies, they foresee, with all the accompanying words and other sounds that would bring the film versions almost to an equal plane of the spoken drama itself. What has this to do with radio? Nothing much, except that it is the brain-child of Lee De Forest, famous wireless engineer, and therefore brother of his many important radio inventions.

But perhaps this will eventually develop into the wireless transmission of talking movies, as some enthusiastic fans insist.

Not Perfect Yet

At present, however, De Forest has been striving to perfect his invention, as a direct talking movie, even though it is ready for its first public trial. He calls the apparatus, which makes this combination possible, the phonofilm.

The beauty of the phonofilm is that it will make available to all communities the advantages that usually remain in the great centers of population such as New York and Chicago.

Take grand opera, for instance. There are few localities which can afford the upkeep of grand opera organizations where artists are paid anywhere from $500 to $5000 for appearing at an individual performance. With the phonofilm, however, it is possible to photograph not only the scenic but the vocal and orchestral splendor of an opera or other performance. Photograph all the sound as well as action, simultaneously on motion picture film and then print and distribute it in the same way that ordinary motion pictures are printed and distributed.

The high cost evaporates, of course. You pay the artists for one performance and reproduce that performance in hundreds of places—wherever there is a motion picture theatre.

Popular Prices

Grand opera is only one phase of the story. The same idea can be and is being applied to vaudeville, lectures and concerts.

Entertainment now limited to communities that can afford to pay for seeing the original performance, will be put on the phonofilm and distributed far and wide.

Almost 200 phonofilm selections have already been made. They include comedies, concert numbers, operatic arias in endless variety.

MISS ELIZABETH DREW AT WOMEN'S CLUB

An interesting lecture on "Reading the Bible" was presented to the members of the Middlesex Women's Club in Colonial hall yesterday afternoon, by Miss Elizabeth Drew, an English lecturer of note. The main theme of Miss Drew's lecture was the bringing out of the fact that the abiding character of the Bible is maintained by its absolute simplicity of phrasing and subjects on which it touches.

She quoted several extracts from the King James version of the Bible, printed in 1511, to show the directness in our lives conveyed by this book, and the primitive character of the metaphors which are still in our common speech even today, such as "heaping coals of fire," "thorns in the flesh," and "lilies of the field."

The striking fact is brought out in the Bible, stated Miss Drew, that through the thousands of years that man has been writing chronicles of his thoughts and actions, life is very much the same today as it was in the beginning. If we cast off the modern superficialities.

The youth of the Hebrews as a nation at the time of the inscription of the books in the Old Testament, was pointed out by the fact that many of their narratives are traceable directly to some other nation where they may be found in the folk lore of that country.

Examples of this are the stories of the Creation and Moses and his taking from the Babylonians and that of the Flood from the Chaldeans.

The Bible embodies all the main elements of modern literature and we may find within its pages, myths, laws, songs, history, prophecy, poetry, vision, and literature.

The dignity of the Bible is personified by the story of Rebecca at the well, pathos by the account of Hagar, driven to die in the wilderness, and horror in the narrative of the Samaritans eating their children during a siege, as related in the book of Kings II.

She likened the book of Ecclesiastes to the writings of the Persian poet, Omar Khayyam, in their pessimistic view of life, and stated as her opinion which she had not verified, that both works were probably contemporaneous.

Throughout the lecture Miss Drew illustrated her points very ably with quotations from the Bible or from the works of authors. She had for her reference in many cases the famous works published by Matthew Tindal in London during the reign of James II.

K. K. K. Issue in Campaign with foglins, warning persons to leave the parish and other misdeeds which grew out of masked band operations in Morehouse prior to the kidnapping of Daniel and Richard on Aug. 14, 1922, will go to trial at Boston next Monday. More serious charges in connection with the Daniel-Richard affair are pending against 18 citizens of the parish.

The governor referred briefly to the declaration of H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, in an address at Dallas, in which he grouped the Catholic, Jew and Negro in one classification as three elements that cannot become good American citizens. Mr. Parker said the policy of the imperial wizard was the policy of the Louisiana Klan. He said the imperial wizard declared the Klan to be a great organization, dedicated to betterment of Americanism.

"MIGHTY CASEY"

Few persons know that E. Robinson Casey of Syracuse, N. Y., is the hero of the well-known poem "Casey at the Bat." Back in 1885, as a member of the old Detroit National League team, Casey struck out with the bases full in Minneapolis—not in Mudville. But Thayer, who wrote the poem, drew his inspiration from the game. Casey is a successful business man and was in New York recently, to attend a convention.

OUR AIRPLANE INDUSTRY STARVING TO DEATH

DETROIT, Oct. 30.—Dwight Davis, assistant secretary of war, told Detroit business men yesterday he would refuse to be held to the responsibility placed on him by congress in the matter of adequate provision for the mobilization of material to meet war time needs, unless congress passed legislation to relieve what he had described as a serious situation as to the army air service.

Speaking at a business men's luncheon he declared the air service should be authorized to begin a 10 year building program on a modest scale and asserted that even that would not give the United States at the end of the 10 years as many planes as other nations now have.

"More serious still," Mr. Davis said, "our airplane industry is starving to death. Foreign nations are building up a flourishing airplane industry, capable of immediate conversion to war needs by large appropriations for plants and by heavily subsidizing commercial aviation. We are allowing this industry, absolutely vital to our national defense, to die a lingering death."

TO START WEEK DAY PARKER LECTURES

The week-day evening series of the Moses Greeley Parker lectures is to be opened at the Auditorium next Thursday evening by Arthur Weigall, recently inspector of antiquities in Egypt. His topic is "Tutankhamen and the Recent Discoveries in Upper Egypt."

So prodigious and far-reaching was the sensation created by the discoveries made in the finding of the tomb of Tutankhamen, that Egypt was on every tongue throughout the civilized world. Ever since the excavation began and even now, the interest in the actual results of that remarkable contribution to archeology is unabated. There is a keen desire to learn the true particulars, as up to the present time, there has been no one at least in this country, who could tell the whole story.

It has remained for Arthur Weigall, the noted Egyptologist and author of many books, and who was former inspector of antiquities in Egypt, to furnish actual details of the findings. Mr. Weigall was special correspondent for the London Daily Mail and the North American Newspaper Alliance, at the opening of the tomb and was one of the first to enter.

Arthur Weigall is perhaps one of the most versatile men before the public, and has achieved fame in several ways. He is especially gifted as a word painter, and the brilliancy of his delivery is emphasized by his strong personality, and his authentic knowledge of his subject.

"The Valley of the Kings, and how it became a royal necropolis, the wonderful preservative power of its dry atmosphere, the beginning of the excavations which led to important finds, the opening of the tomb of which Mr. Weigall was an eye witness, the marvelous objects which the interior revealed, the art value of the strange and amazing collection,—all this is but a part of the absorbing lecture which Mr. Weigall will deliver. It is safe to venture that not a dull or stupid moment will be experienced throughout the entire evening."

THE SISTINE CHAPEL CHOIR CONCERT

While we are contemplating the concert by the Sistine chapel choir that comes to the Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday night, it is interesting to note the many items that are published concerning the travels of this unique body. Every member of which was trained in the Sistine choir.

Especially of note in the visit of the choir to the White House on the day of its concert in Washington, last Friday. President Calvin Coolidge received the Italian singers, with their worthy leader, Monsignor Antonio Rella, and after a short visit, had his picture taken with them.

Everywhere the choir has gone it has made itself a part of the municipality in which it has sung. Its opening number at each concert has been a song of greeting to the city, or to the archbishop of the diocese. It forms a sort of friendship between the choir and its audience that makes the ensuing concert an affair between friends. It is the greeting of the oldest corner of the old world to the new world. President Coolidge returned this greeting on the occasion of the choir's visit to the presidential mansion at the national capital.

No more beautiful setting is offered for the Lowell concert of the pope's choristers than the Memorial Auditorium, with its beautiful architecture, and with its rich stage hangings to match the purple and red cassocks and white surplices of the choristers.

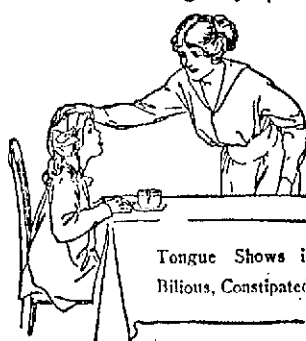

The 16th century composers, Vittoria and Palestrina, whose music makes for itself an atmosphere peculiarly sacerdotal, will be heard as they have never before been heard in Lowell. The thrilling effects of these more modern creations will be added to make up a program of unequalled quality and charm. William Cardinal O'Connell lends his patronage to the choir while touring New England.

The advance sale for Wednesday night's concert is quite encouraging and the prospect is that those who want good seats will have to apply early.

The Sistine choir is one of the greatest musical organizations in the world and this opportunity to hear it may be the only one that will ever occur to the present generation in Lowell.

LOWELL LEGIONAIRES ADDRESSED BY FORMER CHAPLAIN OF 103RD FIELD ARTILLERY

Lowell Post, 37, of the American Legion met last night in the veteran's quarters of the Auditorium with the largest attendance of the year, in evidence. The occasion was a business meeting and later a smoker and talker by Rev. Wm. J. Farrell, of Woburn, formerly the chaplain of the 103rd Field Artillery in France, and by Bob Hart, World's Series umpire and polo player.

The meeting was called to order by Commander Joseph Molloy, about 8 o'clock, and then Mayor Donovan was called on and made a few remarks to the body of veterans, stating that he would back any project they might wish to put across, and that they could rely on his support.

The business next brought before the meeting was the discussion of plans for Armistice day celebration. The program finally decided on calls for the turning out of the Legion on that Sunday and parading to Bellevue park, which will be renamed Kittredge park, and then three squares in the neighborhood will be dedicated. At the conclusion of these services the men will return to the Legion rooms for a buffet lunch, after which a special service is to be held for the comrades in the First Congregational church. The special Legion ritual for that day will be performed at the church.

Rev. Fr. Farrell was then introduced and spoke to the meeting in a humorous vein for a few moments, recounting several narratives of the war which convulsed his audience. Then, in a serious vein, he stressed the necessity of all Legion men putting their shoulders to the wheel and making the Legion ball a great success. He recounted some of his own experiences in this line in the town of Wilmington.

Bob Hart was next in line and he dispensed stories concerning his experiences in the big leagues that kept his audience in roars of laughter from start to finish.

At this point in the meeting a group of past commanders of the Spanish War Veterans who had been meeting down stairs, were led in and made welcome and heard talks by Fr. Farrell and Mr. Hart. The commanders present from the S.W.V. post were Frank Dodge, Michael Harrington, A. D. Mitchell, R. W. Chandler, Frank Northhills, James F. Crowley, Thomas

Pain in Limbs and Back Disappear on Taking Dreo—
Feels Stronger

Day after day people are speaking in praise of Dreo in such open, frank words that no one can doubt their sincerity. Persons who have given it a fair trial claim it has strengthened a weak digestion, roused a lazy liver, banished constipation, restored deranged kidneys, and overcome rheumatism. Read the recent statement of Mr. Frederick J. Jones of Collinsville, near Lowell, Mass. He says:

"I hated to get up in the morning knowing full well that I had a day of suffering before me. I could not move without pains shooting through my back and limbs. And when it rained my rheumatism was so bad that I wanted to yell from the pain."

"My inactivity put my liver in a sluggish condition. Looked pale and sickly. I felt tired and weary. My system was run down and weak. Nothing that I took did me a bit of good."

"I heard of Dreo and decided to try it. It was the luckiest day of my life. This wonderful remedy completely relieved me of my troubles. All trace of my rheumatism has disappeared. I am stronger and feel better than I have been. And my liver working properly has cleared the poison from my system. I hope that everyone suffering from my trouble will benefit by taking this wonderful medicine."

Everywhere you go these days you find someone praising Dreo, for the great amount of good it has done in cases of stomach trouble, sluggish liver, weak kidneys, constipation, catarrh, rheumatism and as a blood builder and reconstructive tonic.

Dreo is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patients and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys should have attention first because their work is most important.

If you feel that your kidneys are the cause of your sickness or run down condition commence taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, because as soon as your kidneys begin to improve they will help all the other organs to health.

A Trial Will Convince Anyone

Thousands and thousands of people everywhere have testified that the mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is SPECIAL NOTE: You may obtain a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing 10 cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. soon realized, and that it stands the highest for its remarkable results in distressing cases.

Symptoms of Kidney Trouble

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequently passing water night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brick-dust or sediment, headache, backache, lame back, heart disturbance, due to bad kidney trouble, uric acid rheumatism, lumbago, loss of flesh or sallow complexion, kidney trouble in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Swamp-Root is Pleasant to Take

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.

Committee, Gilbert W. Hunt, and Patrick J. Burns.

Dr. Lambert was introduced and spoke a few words on the Boy Scout drive which was inaugurated last night and requested the support of the men present. In the carrying out of their program.

Alvah H. Weaver, chairman of the hall committee, took the floor for a few minutes, and requested that all the men present should take one or two tickets at least from Dr. Livingston, who is in charge of that part of the affair. He told of the interest he has found among the people outside, in the coming affair and said that he himself has already disposed of over 100 tickets for the celebration.

A buffet lunch was served by Miss Sergt. Harry Cole at the conclusion of the meeting and a social hour enjoyed by the body of men present.

BATTERY B REUNION ON COMMON NOV. 10

The second annual reunion and field day of Battery B will be held on the South common November 10. AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY REUNION

The American Legion Artillery held its first reunion and social last night in Memorial hall with a large number of members present. The meeting was addressed by Mayor Donovan first, who told of the early days of his enlistment and the reasons that he had been prompted to join the service. After him, came Commander Molloy of Lowell Post 37, American Legion, with a plea for co-operation between the Legion and the auxiliary. He told of his own interest in the welfare of the auxiliary and hoped that they would increase in size constantly, and get their men folks to come around to the Legion regularly and lend their support to its program.

Arthur Moran, organizer of the auxiliary, then addressed a few remarks to the ladies.

Rev. Fr. Farrell spoke while the ladies were at supper, as he had another engagement which necessitated his leaving early. He told of some of his experiences on the other side, and then swinging from a light line of talk to a deeper vein, he affirmed his faith in the abilities of women to outdo men in such matters as campaigns for money, social affairs, etc.

A program of music and dancing presented was as follows: Piano, Mrs. Leo Tansey; dance novelty, Miss Laurette Emerson; reading, Miss Dillon; dancing, Margaret Joyce; solo, Edward Donahue; reading, Henry Gutknecht; buck and wing dance, Dorothy Rouine and Avis Hollis; solo, Raymond Kelly; dance, Mary McQuade; and dance accompanied by piano selection, Dorothy Saxon, and Evelyn Saxon.

There were five gold star mothers present to sit at the special table provided for them. The program closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

NEW ATLANTIC CABLE

Postal Telegraph Now Has Greatest Cable Mileage Be-
No. America and Europe

The Postal Telegraph Commercial Cable announces the recent successful landing of a New Atlantic cable. The new cable, the first to be laid across the Atlantic since 1910, supplementing an already extensive system has been laid to meet a demand for further improvements in cable service between America and Europe. It gives this system a greater cable mileage between No. America and Europe than that of any other company.

In the construction of this new cable, which is the largest ever manufactured for deep sea operation, more than 1,000,000 lbs. of copper, 1,800,000 lbs. of gutta percha and some 80,000 miles of iron and steel wires of various sizes were used. The cable will be capable of transmitting 1200 letters or minutes—600 in each direction simultaneously—a capacity nearly twice that of any other long cable now in operation anywhere.

This extensive addition, 4618 miles, of the most expensive cable ever manufactured, materially strengthens and still further advances the leading position of the Postal Telegraph Commercial Cables in overseas communications.

PRINCESS GORCHAKOVA

TOUGH IF YOU'RE PRINCESS IN RUSSIA

(By N.E.A. Service)
MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—Even the probability of old Russia has had mighty tough sledding in these days of famine.

But think of the surviving remnants of the nobility of Nicholas day. Under the regime of Lenin and Trotsky, they've suffered worse than death.

Take Princess Gorchakova, for instance. Her mother was shot at the beginning of the Bolshevik revolution in 1917, and her father, who had at different periods ruled over the provinces of Kaluga and Viatka, was imprisoned. Kamenev had spared his life only because of a favor Princess Gorchakova once had done for him.

Then the princess, who had married a surgeon named Nikitina, when she was 16, lost her two children. Lack of Madam Nikitina, the princess' safety food and medicine resulted in their deaths.

And when Henry C. Wolfe, recently returned to America from work with the American relief administration, saw her a year ago in the village of Melkies in the Smolna province, the princess had not tasted white bread for four years. She had forgotten what cocoa tasted like.

She and her husband were existing on a small allowance of black bread and dried fish, given in return for Nikitina's services as a surgeon for the soviet.

The relief administration couldn't assist her because of her husband's work for the Bolsheviks. But former Governor Goodrich of Indiana contributed a special fund for the alleviation of the sufferings of former intelligent men. Wolfe, in Moscow, received 15 food packages. One was turned over to the princess.

Lovers of horses who want to enlist in an organization with a history, and in which the entire personnel strive continually to uphold the proud name established by the outfit, will welcome with joy the news that enlistments are once more in order for the 3rd Cavalry, known as the "President's Own," through virtue of the fact that in all official parades and ceremonies where the military element is present, his escort is composed of troops from this unit. The first trustee, originally appointed, resigned and a short time after the trust was executed Herbert E. Fiske and Edward J. Robbins were appointed trustees of the estate. In 1920 they, Fiske and Robbins, purchased while trustees, the real estate in the trust which was one half undivided interest in the Fiske block in Central street. The trustees applied for a license from the probate court to purchase for themselves on a lump sum the property was depreciating and greatly in need of repair. This license was issued in June, 1920. They then bought the property for about $100,000, which included the two undivided halves, one of which had been held by them as trustees.

erable anxiety; but soon after extras appeared giving the news of his death.

Two Sons Killed in War

The ex-premier's daughter and his two surviving sons, Anthony and Richard, were at the bedside when death came. Two of his sons were killed in the World war, a sorrow from which Mr. Bonar Law never recovered.

When the Canadian Scotman—Mr. Bonar Law was born in New Brunswick, Canada, on Sept. 16, 1858—accepted his high office, a year ago, his friends well knew that his health was precarious. Outside that close circle it was known only that he had contracted a throat complaint which prevented him from speaking.

Mr. Bonar Law was aware of his own condition and promised the Unionist party when he accepted its mandate that he would resign if and when he found his strength unequal to his work. He gave place to Stanley Baldwin, his chancellor of the exchequer, almost before his new government was fairly organized.

No official statement as to the nature of Mr. Bonar Law's illness was ever made, but the public drew an inference from the fact that Dr. Thomas Harder, who was attending him when he resigned and who has since been his physician, is one of the foremost cancer specialists.

During the interval spent in the country since his retirement from the prime ministership, Mr. Bonar Law had been able to take outdoor walks, and also motored considerably. The reports of these activities, which seemed to indicate that he was holding his own, had not prepared the public for the news of his comparatively rapid decline.

There has not yet been time for funeral arrangements, but there is every reason to believe it was Mr.

LLOYD GEORGE PAYS TRIBUTE TO BONAR LAW

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Word of the death of Andrew Bonar Law was received with deep regret by David Lloyd George upon his arrival today. News of the passing away of the British statesman was kept from Mr. Lloyd George by his associates until he had finished breakfast in his private car. He then sent a message to the daughter of the late premier and in a statement to the press, said:

"I have heard the sad news with deep regret, tinged with relief that the long and severe suffering has at last come to a peaceful end. I saw him shortly before I left for this country and the news certainly was not unexpected by me."

"During the last years of the war and the first years of the peace, we worked in closer co-operation and partnership than probably any two ministers of the crown ever worked before. There was hardly a day we did not meet and not a day we did not communicate with each other, and interchange views. No man could wish for a more loyal, sagacious and helpful partner in the times of emergency. Although we had serious political differences that covered co-operation during the past year, our friendship never broke and we met just a few days before I left for these shores. It fills me with sadness to think I shall never meet him again."

RELIEVING TRAFFIC CONGESTION

It is of no use to become hysterical over our traffic problems. They are here and as they are daily becoming worse, we must deal with them as we find them. One of the things that blocks traffic in every part of the down-town district is the practice of all-day parking of autos on the public streets. Before the days of the automobile, those who drove to their places of business never thought of leaving a horse standing on the street all day, or even for half a day. The horse or pair, as the case might be, was either put up in a down-town stable or driven home directly by the coachman.

Nowadays, every business man has his private auto and in most cases he drives it himself. He does not employ a chauffeur to drive him to his place of business in the morning and go after him at noon and again at closing time. Some few do have this done, but perhaps a majority of the others park their autos on the public streets for the entire business day. It is found even that many men drive to the railroad station in the morning and park their autos in the vicinity until they return near 6 o'clock in the evening.

Now in all fairness and in the interest not only of the business men but of the public at large, is it not time to restrict this practice of all day parking on the busy public streets. This can be done by limiting the hours of parking on all the streets in the congested districts. If this evil were remedied, there would be a great deal more open space on many of our streets in which to do business. Many traffic blockades would also be thus prevented.

The next step is the direction of travel. There is room for improvement in this respect also and to that end new rules and regulations should be devised and published for general observance. In these orders it will be necessary to find the points at which there is the greatest and most frequent congestion and divert part of the traffic to some other routes. There seems to be no other remedy at present.

But at the same time, it is necessary to plan the opening of a new street parallel to lower Central, preferably on the eastern side. It has been suggested that a street should be laid over the canal on East Merrimack, extending to Warren street. Unless it went through the Strand theatre, it would not be much good and even then it would empty too near Kearney square to relieve the congestion there. For this reason it appears that a street connecting East Merrimack street with Warren or George street would be much more serviceable. If carried to George street from Davidson street, it would pass through several mill buildings in the Middlesex yard, and if extended from Davidson street to Warren through the Bagshaw building, it would call for a long bridge. This, however, might offer the most acceptable solution; but the question is one for engineers and bridge builders to decide. It seems, the city will have to shoulder a rather heavy undertaking in providing a complete and permanent solution of the traffic problems not only around Kearney square, but also in the vicinity of the Memorial Auditorium. Mayor Donovan we note, is to recommend some plan of the most practical solution of these traffic and engineering problems. It is necessary first to find what is the best solution and then consider the cost. It seems that we are face to face with conditions that cannot be effectively remedied without large expenditure on new construction.

A Thought
He that sympathizes in all the happiness of others perhaps himself enjoys the safest happiness, and he that is warned by all the folly of others has perhaps attained the soundest wisdom.—Colton.

Obering the Law
The professor swims from the sinking boat and climbs up on the bank. Then, dashing in again, he returns to the wreck and rescues his wife. "Why didn't you save her before?" asks the listener in wonderment. "Ah, my dear sir," was the learned man's reply. "I was bound to save myself first. Self-preservation is the first law of nature."—Pittsburgh Post.

Too Much Alive
"While my husband was courting me," said Mrs. Smith, "he said: 'I would face death for you, dear.' A short time after we were married we were going along the street when a vicious bulldog came dashing at us barking furiously. My husband jumped behind me and started to run back. I said, 'John, you said you would face death for me.' 'Yes,' he replied, 'but that dog is not dead.'"

Scared the Peddler
The old deacon was the kindest of men, religious, and always ready with a good word. One day while he was driving to town, he overtook a peddler with a large pack. Stopping his horse, the deacon suggested that the man ride. The peddler carefully stored his pack in the back of the spring wagon and then climbing to the seat beside the deacon. For some time the two talked pleasantly. Then there was a long pause, and, thinking to improve the occasion in a religious sense, the deacon turned and asked: "My good friend, are you prepared to die?" With a shriek the peddler sprang to the ground and disappeared in the nearby woods.

Henry Cabot's Story
Senator Lodge, speaking of the difficulty of making the McKinley managers in 1896 come out unambiguously for the gold standard, said: "Their original gold standard plank was like the schoolboy's answer to the question, 'Who was the greater general, Caesar or Hannibal?' The schoolboy wrote: 'When we consider the times in which these great generals lived, the conditions under which they struggled, the people over whom they ruled, and the difficulties under which they fought, we are compelled to answer in the affirmative.'"

Autumn Musings.
October leaves are tumbling down, red and yellow, green and brown. Summer's robes are autumn's crown. In its glory, Glinting in the golden sun, Tied falling one by one. The west wind can detect the grain? 'Tis Fall Winter hearty. Yet somehow folks think Autumn serene and bright, and the winter drear. Unmindful of the harvest cheer, When fruits a labor. Are reaped are not the crops might. After long days of hardened toil In the field, in fertile soil O' friend and neighbor.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN
The first of a chain of outdoor sport clubs, which within a short time will cover every section of New England is being built in beautiful and historic Lexington. Here the lover of outdoors will always be able to find opportunity for indulging in his favorite recreation, whether it be golf or tennis in the "open" months of the year, or the more rugged sports of the winter season.

GO EAST
Go east, young farmer, go east. This seems to be the new slogan, according to department of agriculture. It notices a decided movement of western farmers to the abandoned farms of eastern states. Some of these farms are so rocky that seed has to be planted with a shotgun. But they are nearer the market. That is important, highly, with transportation charges so high. History, in the long run, is the record of business. Even Columbus, in discovering America, was merely a scout seeking a shorter trade route—cheaper transportation.

BOY SCOUTS
The appeal of the Boy Scouts in their drive for funds is one that should meet a generous response. This organization does good work in training boys to clean living and rugged manhood, which will help to lighten the coming generation. Give!

Probably the worst, meanest and lowest type of bootlegger is the one who sells moonshine to boys and thus becomes responsible for their downfall.

It was refreshing to see boat races on the Merrimack on Navy Day. Why not make an effort to revive aquatic sports on the river which were so popular here in days of yore?

Columbus was beaten in the first race with Blunstone. Let's hope she will have better luck next time.

The weather man has been kind; but none can tell how soon he will change his mind or his temper.

Alive When Sunken Submarine Was Raised

Chief Electrician Lawrence T. Brown, a former resident of Tyngsboro, who was a member of the crew of the ill-fated submarine O-5 which sank in the Panama canal last Sunday, was rescued after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and is now recuperating in the Cullen hospital. Three other members of the crew, originally listed as missing, have not been accounted for. From despatches it may be gleaned that Brown's condition is not serious and his relatives in this city are rejoicing.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES AT THE Y. W. C. A.

The Y.W.C.A. will be the scene of several merry Halloween parties this week, for practically all the clubs in the association are holding old-fashioned Halloween affairs. The various clubs of the International Institute are also preparing for two pleasant parties to be held in Colonial hall, in Palmer street.

COSTUME PARTY BY BOY SCOUTS

A Halloween costume party by the four patrols of Troop 18, Boy Scouts of America, was given in the vestry of the First Baptist church last evening with many special features on the program. The vestry was appropriately decorated in Halloween colors and made a fine setting for the various games and entertainments. Among the games on the program were relay races, "spook corner," doughnut eating contest, apple ducking and various other Halloween games.

FALL AND WINTER MILLINERY EXHIBIT

In the theatre lobby at the French street end of the Lowell high school at the recess periods this afternoon, an exhibition of fall and winter millinery was held. The featured articles were made by the girls of the second year millinery classes of the school and represented the latest in fall and winter headwear. Although this exhibition cannot be compared with the big one given in the spring, the articles submitted were inspected by many friends and relatives of the girls, and others interested in the art.

FRATERNAL NEWS

The regular meeting of the Lowell calenderian club will be held in Gratiot hall Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. Following the completion of the business session the meeting will be turned over to the Halloween committee and a good time is in store for all who attend.

A class initiation will be conducted by the Royal Arcanum council of this city in Odd Fellows hall Wednesday evening. Industry council will have charge of the meeting and the Lowell Council degree team will do the initiation work. Several supreme officers will be present and it is expected that there will be a large attendance from the Lowell councils.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem
Love or Liver

("The seat of the emotions is in the liver"—Some doctor or other.)

Gee whiz, how science does advance!
Today, it seems, by diagnosis
Our fever from a lady's glance
May be incipient cirrhosis.
The chills and thrills that we receive,
The doubts and qualms that make us quiver,
Our doctors teach us to believe
They may be love—they may be liver!

When Dante, long ago, was led
To sing to Beatrice his lyrics
(Which are much praised but seldom read)
Perhaps some medical empirics
Would so have altered Dante's mood
That he'd have ceased to shake and shiver
When lovely Beatrice he viewed:
What was his ailment, love or liver?

Helen and Paris, Guinevere
And Lancelot, and all great lovers
May have been merely out of gear
Inside—as science now discovers!
Well, maybe so, but we don't care
Not one scintilla, not a stiver,
Romance remains a sweet affair
Whether it's due to love—or liver!

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KERR'S THEATRE
Music and comedy flow freely at B. F. Kerr's Theatre this week, with the former getting the verdict after six snappy acts. The program has a deal of balance and variety for all that and contains much for the pleasure and edification of the vaudeville audience of today.

It is topped off by Lloyd Inbach's entertainers who return for another slice of cake after a successful long last season. This can not young men stand out prominently as one of the best touring jazz orchestras of a decade. Their harmonies are smooth, their technique faultless and they play the kind of tunes people like to hear when seeking an evening's entertainment. Two punos are used as well as saxophones, violins, drums and brass and a double bass. They are real headliners in the realm of syncopation.

It is quite appropriate that the orchestra teams up with Marie Coate, syncope queen, in a specially act that is one of the best ever heard at local theatre. Miss Coate has an act of her own, during which she puts over a flock of topical songs in great style, but when she enters the stage act a few minutes later the combination is unbeatable. Miss Coate is a first water star in her own right, make no mistake about that, but when two starchy acts combine, there's only one answer, a regular Milky Way.

Comedy chatter, songs and dancing make up the acts of Mary Maxwell and Harry O'Neil, presenting "The Modern Romeo and Juliet" and Fannie Simpson and Earl Dean in "Shop Stevey." Each act has its highlights in fun and each well merited the prolonged applause accorded by last evening's audience.

One might travel across the continent and back without running into any better dancing stuff than showed by Pat Grant who teams up with Eva Esmond, billed as "Just Two Kids." Each slings a bit, too, but the footwork of Grant stands out most conspicuously.

As an opener Marquette and Alvarez show some new tricks along the line of aerial entertainment. This week's motion pictures maintain a high standard. The feature is "Dollar Devils," starring Cullen Landis and Eva Novak and there are Pathé News Weekly, Topics of the Day and an Aesop Fable.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A capacity house saw a grand show at the Opera House last night, "Tommy Martelle," supported in his "Fashion Show" by the Lutteringer Players, captivating his audience at the start and holding their intense interest until the final curtain.

As a female impersonator Mr. Martelle is a delight. He can wear clothes, carry them well, and almost make you forget for the moment that he is a member of the sterner sex. There is a good plot running through the three acts of the show that is capably handled. The success of Jack Helen, played by Mr. Martelle, in impersonating a girl, a jingle drummer, results in everybody getting married in the final scene and everything turning out as it should. Mr. Martelle plays the part with the skill expected of him. The Lutteringer players give him perfect support and aid greatly in putting things over in the best of style.

In addition to good costumes and fine acting in his part, Mr. Martelle delighted with songs and dances. His "Discretion" and "A New Fashion Gown for an Old Fashioned Girl" numbers were especially fine. Clever John Rowe, as Squire Thwacker, put over his "Swing, Sam Swing" song as the musical hit of the night. This was, with all respect, probably due more to the costume, a brightly decorated orange bathrobe suit, pink parasol, and what looked like a loudcap, than to the voice. Wherever the appeal had its source it was there and Mr. Rowe was encircled several times. The audience would probably have kept him out on the stage if he hadn't asked them to try their voices on the same song.

When Miss Hazel Corinne sang "I Want to Learn to Dance," she surprised the audience with a pleasing voice and some fifty stepping. She was all sweetness in this song and put it over in real style. The contagious laugh of Edna Earl Andrews helped her more than anything else to put over "Oh, I'm All Right," after a few too many lifting exercises between Mr. Martelle's flash and her lips. Vic Browne was well worked up with his love complex and went across big as usual.

The musical numbers, as follows, all went over in good style:
Chorus, "Fashion Girl"..... Mr. Martelle
"I'd Like to Go on a Honeymoon With You"..... Mr. Martelle

Hazel Corinne and Victor Browne
"Discretion"..... Mr. Martelle

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE.

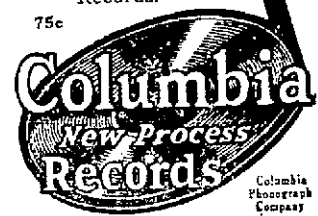

In "Rugles of Red Gap," the feature picture now delighting large audiences at the Merrimack Square theatre, Lois Wilson, charming Paramount picture-player ascends from the stumpy atmosphere of a bartender's daughter to heights sublime as a respected member of British aristocracy, and in so doing, vindicates the impressions of renowned critics that she is a star of the highest altitude.

"Rugles of Red Gap" is produced by James Cruze, the man who made famous "The Covered Wagon," which had sensational runs in the big houses of New York, Chicago and Boston. The current Merrimack Square theatre is a worthy successor. It is from the pen of Harry Leon Wilson, a novelist who has forced to the front with remarkable speed in recent times. His intimacy with such places of habitation as "Red Gap," and the people who live in that region, yet realistic, a hamlet, makes the picture of his story one of the most interesting of the season.

Contrary to the opinion suggested by the title, "Rugles of Red Gap" is not the usual type of western play. "Red Gap" is situated in the Klondike territory and makes its bow in the audience in the form of a sparsely settled mining town, which is later transformed into a busy, bustling and

The Frouds and the Kennys are among the prominent names in Red Gap social register and their contest for supremacy in the social world reaches its apex when the Frouds send their cousin, Egbert, to Paris for the purpose of acquiring a "finch" along the lines of etiquette. In Paris, the family secures the services of "Rugles," a valet with a reputation of worth and one-time servant of the Hon. George Basingwell of England. Being a pleasant sort of a chap and an easy mixer he returns with the family to Red Gap and is mistaken by the residents as an Englishman of repute. He opens an Eng-

Blotchy skin—
upset stomach—
constipation—

Ills that embitter the lives of millions . . .
yet, in most cases, needless!

Failure to nourish the body properly, or—failure to remove its waste matter regularly—these are at the root of 99 out of every 100 cases of constipation, skin trouble, digestive disorders.

When the intestinal tract is sluggish and weak, the whole body becomes flooded with poisons: the blood is impoverished, the skin perhaps affected. The digestive organs may not be equal to the strain.

The really startling results which Fleischmann's Yeast has given so many sufferers are easily explained. 2 or 3 cakes a day of this fresh, natural food contain the very elements needed to help build up the body afresh. The millions of tiny living plants in each yeast cake make digestion easy, and give the intestinal muscles regular, healthy exercise.

The wealth of vitamins and proteins increases the white corpuscles in the blood, and gives new tone and vigor to the whole system.

Remember that Fleischmann's Yeast for health comes only in the tinfoil wrapper, and cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it.

Eat it before or between meals, plain, in water or fruit juices, or spread on crackers or on bread, whichever you prefer.

Send for free booklet, "The New Found Value of Fleischmann's Yeast in Building Health." THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, Dept. 138-B, 701 Washington Street, New York, N. Y.

"When I say that I used to dread the sight, smell, or taste of food—well, it's the absolute truth," writes Homer Gauthier of Beverly Road, Brooklyn, N.Y. "I would come home and mother would have the table fairly groaning with good healthy foods—yet just as sure as fate, about three hours later a thousand demons would seem to start fighting inside me." Then he began eating Fleischmann's Yeast. In less than a month "my agonies vanished. I gradually indulged in the foods which used to have the most appalling effect, but nothing doing—they couldn't annoy me!"

"I believe I tried every kind of salts advertised in America," writes Wilson Lovett, of Louisville, Kentucky, "and the same thing with pills. I ran, played tennis, rode horseback, took abdominal massages—still constipation stuck with me. . . . After about eight weeks of Fleischmann's Yeast I was able to do without pills or salts of any sort. It is now eight months since I have found it necessary to use a cathartic of any kind—and this, understand, is after a condition of chronic constipation that had lasted for seventeen years."

THIS IS THE "DO A GOOD TURN" FOR THE BOY WEEK YOU SCOUTS OF LOWELL

An Investment of $7200 in the Future Manhood of the City is Asked

The Boy Scout movement is distinctively an asset to our country for the development of efficiency, virility and good citizenship.

—Theodore Roosevelt.

A campaign to raise the sum of $7200 to carry on the Boy Scout movement in Lowell for the next year was inaugurated yesterday. Civic pride should enlist your generous co-operation. There are 9000 boys in Lowell available to accept the creed of the Boy Scouts.

Help bring them in for the following reasons:

BOY SCOUT TRAINING is a vital necessity for the future welfare of the community. BOY SCOUT TRAINING will perpetuate the ideals of manly citizenship to the youth of Lowell. UN-AMERICAN DOCTRINE will await but little when pitted against the glorious principles of the Boy Scouts. THE BOY SCOUT of today is the future citizen of Lowell. He will build upon your foundations. TO HELP THE WEAK and oppressed, to love and seek the best things of life is the aim of a Boy Scout. PUBLIC SERVICE is a cardinal principle of the Boy Scout.

A Lowell Boy Scout

Every boy, on becoming a Scout, takes this SCOUT PROMISE.

On my honor I will do my best—To do my duty to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law; To help other people at all times; To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

WHY YOU SHOULD CONTRIBUTE TO THE BOY SCOUTS' CAMPAIGN

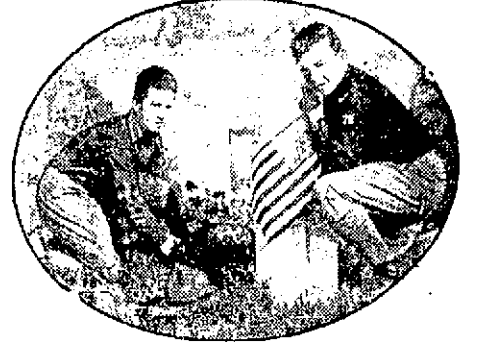

Just a Thought on Civic Responsibility

Every citizen has a civic obligation to fulfill. If one would be a worth-while citizen of a community. The fact that it is voluntary service makes it even more mandatory. You may not care to hold public office. That is one kind of service. But if you fail also to become interested and help movements for the civic betterment of Lowell, may it not be reasonably asked—where is your public spirited citizenship in evidence? The men behind the Boy Scout movement are just citizens like yourself. They simply ask you for that same show of public spirit which they are offering to the city. It is only through voluntary co-operation on the part of public spirited citizens that anything of substantial merit is achieved in a community.

The Boy Scout movement is so broad and thoroughly American in its scope that it should unite all citizens in its support.

LOCAL PROGRAM

- Organize a Scout Troop in every school and church and in many clubs in and around Lowell.
- Organize a Scout Band of 20 pieces.
- Organize a Scout Ship.
- Conduct annual summer and winter camps and hikes for all Scouts throughout all seasons of the year.
- Develop a trained Scout Emergency First Aid Corps.
- Co-operate with all civic, educational and welfare organizations in all non-commercial and non-partisan activities.
- Build up a large and efficient Scout organization for co-operation in public and civic affairs and for service to the community.

You are too old to be a Boy Scout, but not too old to help make manly American boys of the youth of Lowell. What you cannot do yourself make it possible for a boy scout to do. And best of all, why not your boy?

Help the Boy Scouts make Lowell one of the greatest of American cities.

In the once famous mining town and makes plenty of money with this experiment.
But best of all, Ruggles marries into the Kenney family, and a Kenney marries into the family of Hon. Basingwell, whom Ruggles formerly served as valet. Difficulties are adjusted and both families come to the realization that society is a mediocre consideration where real happiness is concerned. In the all-star cast, besides Miss Wilson, are Edward Horton, Ernest Torrence, Fritz Ridgeway, Louise Dresser and Charles Ogle.
"The Fair Cheater" is the title of Dorothy Mackall's latest starring vehicle, the second feature of the Merrimack Square program. It is the story of a theatrical life on New York's Broadway with Miss Mackall, former Ziegfeld Polaris star, furnishing the thrills, assisted by Anna Lehr, William Austin, Lilian Delich, Thomas (old)ing, Frank Elliot, Kallia Pasha, Milton Brown and Sidney Bracy.
The usual high class comedy and an International News reel, featuring the big Cliff classic between Zev and Papyrus, round out the program.

THE RIALTO THEATRE

A real high class program in every respect can be seen at the Rialto the first half of the week. The pictures which opened at that theatre last night are both new to Lowell and they are both pictures of the highest type, from any angle you look at them. The chief attraction of course, is "The Custard Cup," starring Mary Carr, who made "Over the Hill" famous by her wonderful portrayal of the mother. Her characterization as Mrs. Penfield or better still "Penzie," is no less artistic than her work in "Over the Hill." Mary Carr is seen in the role of Mrs. Penfield, known to her neighbors as "Penzie," and she is a goodly soul who radiates happiness and sunshine wherever she goes, in spite of the fact that her own life has never been a bed of roses. She is a widow who has adopted three motherless children and she earns her living by doing laundry work and mental labor for the rich folk. She is the ruler of the "Queen" of "Custard Court," a group of dwellings inhabited by a poor class of people. Whenever anything went wrong, or whenever anyone needed advice or got in trouble, they always went to "Penzie." She seemed to mother the whole of "Custard Court." Of course, the majority of people living in "Custard Court" were law-abiding citizens, but there lived in this court a notorious gang of counterfeiters, who carried on their nefarious work right next door to "Penzie." "Penzie" gets involved with the counterfeiters and how she manages to get out of it supplies "The Custard Cup" with many thrills. One thrilling scene in "The Custard Cup" will never be forgotten by anyone who sees it. It is the burning of the large steamboat, and the passengers are forced to leap from the boat into the water. The rescue work is done by a hydroplane.

The companion attraction is just a check of thrills and excitement. The title of the picture is "One Million to Jewels" and the stars are J. P. McGowan and Helen Holmes. The plot deals with a gang of smugglers who are trying to bring into this country via Havana the Russian crown jewels. Burke, of the U. S. secret service, plays the part of capturing the criminals. He goes to Havana and there most of the story takes place, and judging by the scenes, the picture was actually taken there. A Baby Peggy comedy and movie chats conclude the program.

The management announces that the features scheduled for showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday are: "Tidling With Hazard," a great baseball story with big all star cast and Richard Talmadge in "The Speed King."

THE STRAND THEATRE

"Children of the Dust," featuring Johnny Walker, Pauline Garon and Lloyd Hughes, and "Bell Boy 13," with Douglas MacLean in the leading role, are two leading features at the Strand theatre for the first part of the week and both are of an exceptionally high quality and furnish an enjoyable entertainment to the theatre-goer. Another feature is the showing of the international horse race between Zev, the English Derby winner, "Children of the Dust" is a story in two parts. The first part is back in the halcyon days of the year 1909 and is the story of the childhood of two boys and a girl. The girl, rich, one of the boys the son of a millionaire, and the other a poor boy who lives with a drunken step-father.

The three are great friends and the two boys, in a friendly way, try to outdo each other in gaining the respect of the girl. The story is interesting and at times draws the tears to eyes as the poor boy strives to overcome his poverty and make himself equal to the rich boy in his lady's eyes. The second part of the story is of those fateful days back in 1918. The poor boy has grown up and is the owner of a successful express business but still believes that the girl is out of his reach. Then comes the war. The rich boy enlists immediately and the poor boy, to earn enough to support his guardian, waits for the draft. From this point on the story is filled to the brim with human interest. Douglas MacLean is as good as ever if not a little better in his latest production, "Bell Boy 13." As the nephew of

A rich man he is enjoying life to the utmost until he falls in love with an actress. The uncle is very set against the nephew that his persistence in chasing after the girl will lead to his being disinherited. He continues to see the girl and the inevitable happens. Thrown on his own resources he becomes a bell-hop in a big hotel. His mistakes keep the audience in an uproar and, as the story goes on, the laughter keeps getting greater and greater until the story is brought to an end. The outcome of this story too is entirely unexpected and the picture is well worth seeing. The international horse race is part of the news weekly. The whole race is shown from the start to the finish and shows clearly how Earle Stude, up on Zev, outtraced Smiling Steve Donoghue, plot of the English horse. A comedy and the usual musical numbers complete the program.

THE ROYAL THEATRE
Amateur night tonight! Sure to see a fine three-hour show and an extra half hour of good fun thrown in for good measure. The local entries are excellent so far and a fine concert for first honors is expected. William Russell in "Men's Size," his newest screen drama, tops the feature program, while "Crashing Courage" offers a red-blooded tale of fearless men and tender-hearted women. All in all the Royal theatre program for tonight is sure to please the most fastidious, for it contains many elements of entertainment.

A Valuable Hint for your Finer Fabrics

FOR the starching of her Finer Fabrics, every woman knows the trouble of boiling starch, stirring it all the time so it won't become "lumpy". You can avoid all this by using Lint, the remarkable starch discovery.

New Starch Discovery

LINT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Lint is thoroughly dissolved and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance.

Be sure to use Lint according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Lint stiff or jelly-like. This is why Lint goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches, and is much easier to iron with.

Even ordinary cotton goods, napkins, table-cloths, curtains, etc., have a cool, soft, pliable finish like perle linen when starched with Lint.

Lint penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

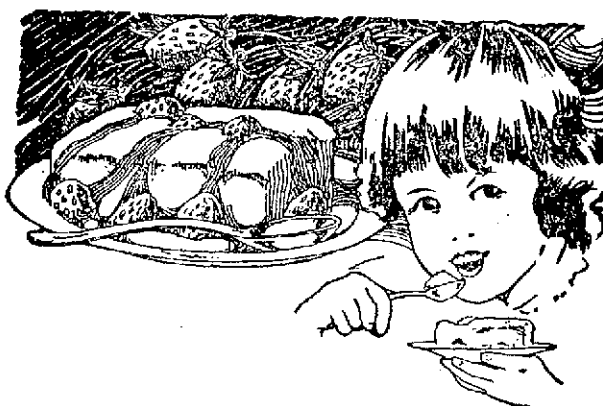

Lint is sold by all grocers, 10c—Perfection in starching is guaranteed or your money refunded.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 19

Suddenly there was a great blare of trumpets and the courtyard gates swung open. At the same time Flip let out a loud bark and ran over toward these gates. Jack started to call his dog but Jingo said that the king wouldn't burn a dog, so Flip was allowed to go.

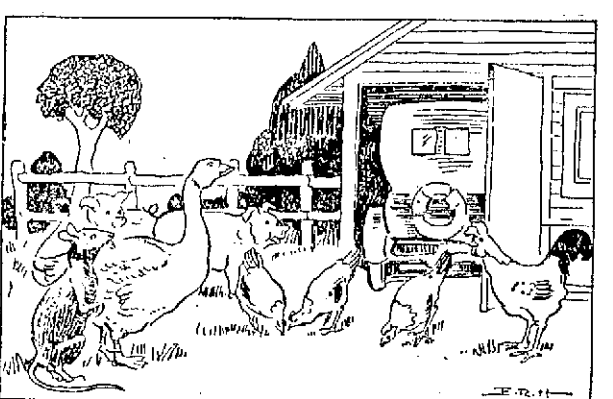

"We'd better get out of sight," whispered Jingo, and he and Jack crouched down behind a large bush. Then they watched King Ragnoboo enter on a fine horse. Behind him came other men, pulling a great load of deer, bears, rabbits and birds that the king had shot.

The king rode right up to the castle rear door and got off his horse. In a moment he disappeared inside the castle. Then his men dragged their load of beasts and birds to the middle of the court and also entered the great castle. Jack and Jingo again were alone. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

ALL THE SQUEAKY-MOO LANDERS GATHERED AROUND TO HAVE A GOOD LOOK AT IT.

A strange thing happened in Squeaky-Moo Land. Farmer Brown bought an automobile. Charlie and Bob, the farm horses, were often too tired after working all day to be driven into town at night. And Farmer Brown and Mrs. Brown liked to go to the movies.

So they got a nice little black car, similar in a new stove, and kept it in the wood-shed.

All the Squeaky-Moo Landers gathered around to have a good look at it, and they passed remarks, you may be sure.

"Gumph!" quacked Daddy Drake. "It copied my voice. A copy cat! That's what it is!"

"And it copied my eyes!" mewed Thomas Mouser. "They shine more brightly at night than they do in the day time. I should be the one to say 'Copy cat!'."

"Speaking of copying," mewed Miss Cow Middy. "I hear it has a horn, although I don't see any. Perhaps, like mine, it has been cut off."

"I don't care about it copying," remarked Goosey Gander, "but I have heard that these things have dreadful ways. Whenever they meet anyone on the road, they run over him. In fact, many a time, in my wanderings, I have stood directly in their path and nipped my scorn, daring them to touch a feather. But always the same thing happens—they lunge impudently back at me and tear right along. If I were not a good jumper I should not be here to speak of it!"

All this time the little black automobile stood silently regarding its visitors. Never a word did it say, but a few drops of water ran down its nose and they did look like real tears.

"I think it's a shame!" said Nancy to Mister Dodger. The fairyman and the Twins were near enough, as usual, to hear the whole affair.

"Never mind," he said wisely. "Just be patient, my dear. Sometimes we have our own way to make in the world. Wait and see!"

A day or two later the Twins had reason to remember Mister Dodger's words. For all the Squeaky-Moo people had their heads together again.

"It was this way," Nancy heard Mister Dodger say. "Chuckie Chicken crossed the road and tried to cross back again. And rather than hit him, the new automobile skidded into a muddy ditch and couldn't get out again. Charley and Bob had to pull it out with ropes."

"My, my!" cried all his listeners. "Wasn't that splendid of it?" "Say!" quacked Daddy Drake. "Did

NEW SENSATION IN STOKES CASE

Testimony Made Public Theft of Secret Code of U. S.
Government in 1908

Horace G. Knowles, Former Minister to Rumania, Called to Witness Stand

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Testimony making public the theft of the secret code of the United States government from the legation at Bucharest, Rumania, in 1908, is today a part of the record of the sensational divorce action of W. E. D. Stokes against Helen Elwood Stokes.

The story was brought out when Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mrs. Stokes, called to the stand Horace G. Knowles, former diplomat and minister to Rumania at the time of the theft. He had previously testified that he had seen Mrs. Stokes in the apartment of Edgar T. Wallace, the principal correspondent.

Mr. Untermyer sought to make Mr. Knowles admit that Ellen Root, then secretary of state, had transferred him to Nicaragua as a result of his connection with the theft. This Mr. Knowles strenuously denied, and also said he had no personal knowledge of the lawyer's assertion that Mr. Root later had recovered the code by purchasing it from a Russian for $25,000 after the Japanese ambassador at St. Petersburg had refused to pay $40,000 for it.

Placed on the stand by counsel for Stokes, Mr. Untermyer said he had received information concerning the theft of the code from an affiliated firm of Wilmington lawyers. Mr. Knowles testified that he had been unable to find a safe hiding place for the code book in the French legation, and that it had disappeared shortly after his arrival. It later was learned that a French servant in the legation had stolen it, and that it was offered to the Japanese ambassador to St. Petersburg by a Russian. It was the Japanese, Mr. Knowles said, who notified the American government of the book's reappearance. Mr. Knowles said he did not know in what manner the state department ultimately had reacquired the code.

His transfer to Nicaragua in 1909, he said, was due to Mr. Root's disapproval of the testimony given by the treaty which he had entered into with the Russian government.

HALLOWEEN PARTY AT THE KASINO

Although there will be numerous Halloween parties in town tomorrow night, it is doubtful if any of them will reach such elaborate proportions as the proposed affair in the Kasino, which is noted for its "big-time" affairs.

One of the biggest and jolliest crowds of the season is expected to pay a visit to the scene of the party tomorrow night. The event will be conducted along the lines of a character party.

BLEACHERY TO START

Final Installations of Machinery at Whiteley Plant Are Now Underway

With final machinery installations under way this week it is expected that the new Whiteley Bleachery will commence operations some time in December. The new plant, just over the Braut line on Lakeview avenue, has been finished by the contractors.

Howard L. Whiteley, who last year resigned as agent of the Lowell Bleachery, is head of the new concern which bears his name. The corporation is capitalized at $500,000 and has taken over a tract comprising about 20 acres of land and a water power with a potential development of 250 h. p. Water privileges give a continuous minimum supply of 1,300,000 gallons of water per hour.

The weekly requirement of the plant will be 6,000,000 gallons. Thus an adequate and dependable supply of fresh water, the most important essential in all bleaching, dyeing and cleaning processes, is assured.

Police Chief Issues
HALLOWEEN WARNING

The annual police warning, directed at that portion of the city's youth having mischievous inclinations around Halloween time, was issued this morning through the office of Superintendent Arthur, who stated that extra details of police will be pressed into service tomorrow night to insure absolute protection of private and public property.

In his admonition, the chief made it distinctly understood that such practices as tipping of blinds or gates, ringing in fire alarms, breaking down fences, turning out street lamps, in fact, any abuses of property, will not be tolerated, and has issued rigid instructions to the men in his department to bring in all violators of the law.

A new feature of the protective policy of the police in connection with Halloween this year will be the assignment of the entire personnel of the motorcycle squad to night duty tomorrow night. The members of the squad will patrol the residential sections of the city in their machines, and it is felt that in this way the tendency of young America to indulge in misdeeds will be minimized.

and everybody knows what that means when applied to the popular Kasino. Favors will be distributed and a general good time will be in order. The management has decorated the spacious hall with gay Halloween colors and nothing will be lacking in the matter of chocolate and waffles, not to mention the barrels of fun to be derived from a party of this nature.

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 30.—Because of additional evidence secured today, by the state constabulary, Dr. D. S. Woodworth, medical examiner, is conducting a further investigation into the killing of Hans Leino, 16, by Samuel Brough, Jr., late yesterday after their return from a hunting trip. The medical examiner and police were told that a third boy, now being sought, saw the shooting and that Brough, instead of discharging his gun when the trigger accidentally caught in his sleeve, pointed it at Leino and then fired, presuming that all the charges of birdshot had been removed.

FOR SKILL IN GUNNERY SPECTACULAR PRISON BREAK

James H. Fallon, Lowell
Marine, Awarded Share of Prize Money

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A share in the prize money awarded to U. S. marines who attain skill in gunnery has been given to James Henry Fallon of Lowell, Mass., who is a member of the U. S. Marine guard on the cruiser Pittsburgh, now patrolling European waters. Fallon demonstrated his skill as a gunner when the Pittsburgh was taking part in short range battle practice in the North sea recently, a full report of which has just been received at marine corps headquarters here.

Fallon is 26 years old and was born in Lowell. He lived at the home of his stepfather, Andrew Powell, 108 Meadowcroft street, Lowell, before leaving for Buffalo, N. Y., where he joined the marine corps in April, 1922. He was assigned to duty on the Pittsburgh when that vessel left the United States last October for a two years' cruise abroad.

Since leaving for Europe the Pittsburgh visited Spain, Algeria, Turkey, Palestine, Egypt, Greece, Italy and many other countries which border the Mediterranean and nearby waters. In recent weeks the vessel has been cruising about in northern waters, calling at ports in France, Germany, Scotland and England. Besides winning the prize money, Fallon qualified as a first class gun pointer and was also awarded the navy "E," the symbol of excellence in gunnery.

C. Y. M. L. PARTY AT ASSOCIATE HALL

The annual Halloween party and dance under the auspices of the C. Y. M. L. will be held in Associate Hall tomorrow night, and the committee in charge of the arrangements promises many new and novel features.

For years this popular organization has conducted two socials a year—the Halloween party in the fall and the farmers' ball in the spring. Each year at least three of the members of the committee have had experience in matters of this nature. This experience is brought into play in the new committee, so that it can be truthfully said that each succeeding affair will be greater.

The committee in charge of the Halloween party is composed of John W. McGinnis, chairman; Joseph W. Heslian, Cleon O'Neil, James P. Saunders, Timothy P. Rohan, James J. Bruin, Harold B. Sullivan, William Monahan, John J. Flannery, Patrick Grady and President John J. Mahoney.
